STEW—THE OLD SCOUTERS' WAY. Everyone attending an "old scouts" reunion held during the weekend at the Old Parish Hall in Mitchell brought a potato, carrot, stick of celery and some stew meat that all went into a giant pot of "scout stew" which was the main meal Saturday evening. Stirring the pot from the left are G. Rollin Henn, a 53-year scout and chairman of the event, Ray Gaudette Sr., a 25-year veteran of scouting and Carl Aldridge, a 10-year scout, representing the Lewis and Clark Pilgrimage Association, owners of the property where the event was held. Former local Scouters from here and Alton, St. Louis, East St. Louis and several other towns stopped by to visit, many of them camping overnight.

Propose Maryville Road area drainage

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Nameoki Township highway officials will appeal to the Granite City Council for permission to tap a stormwater line into the new Maryville Road sewer as a means of draining a Wilshire holding pond area, it was decided Friday in a meeting of county, township, state and Metro-East Sanitary

District officials. Doubt was voiced that it would be possible for county and state authorities to approve proceeding with the plan. The decision to try was reached following a lengthy discussion of Nameoki Township drainage problems during a special meeting of the sanitary district in its Granite City offices, attended by county highway officials, engineers of the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Water Resources Division and representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Russel Robinson of Granite City, president of the sanitary district board, said the meeting was called to "throw onto the table" the details of a proposal

Petitions circulated

SPECIAL ELECTION on his office is sought by Granite City Supt. Lionel Portell, shown addressing the City Council on the elective-appointive issue.

(Press-Record Photo)

The halfway mark has been passed in a petition campaign intended to lead to an Oct. 4 special election on whether the Granite City street superintendent position should be elective or appointive. The drive was started May 13 and its target date is late June.

The number of signatures has passed 4,000 and only a few turn-downs are reported.

Attorney Leon Scroggins has said that less than 5,000 signatures would be needed to qualify for such a referendum, and a committee coordinating the petitions has set 5,000 as its goal. It is headed by Mrs. Mildred Crider, Robert Leo Wofford and Dorothy Balsei.

The ballot question would be, "Shall the office of superintendent of streets of the city of Granite City be an elective office?"

If 5,000 or 6,000 signatures are obtained on the special election petitions, many feel that the outcome would be assured.

Turnouts for special elections are usually smaller than at general elections, and if most of 5,000 or more petitioners participated, an affirmative vote would be a certainty, it is reasoned.

Street Supt. Lionel Portell, winner of citywide votes in 1971 and 1973, says the petition effort is "on behalf of the people's right to vote for all upcoming street superintendents, not just myself."

Aldermen voted April 26 to make the street post appointive after April 1978.

Deputy questioned about towing firms

"I have been questioned by federal agents about what I know about possible payoffs from towing companies," a Madison County deputy sheriff has told the Press-Record.

"I have heard people raise heck for not getting their $7 or $4 for having a car towed," he alleged. "If we are on the street and there is a wreck not needing an immediate tow, and the driver wants a particular towing company, that's one thing. "But in an emergency, I tell them to send me a tow truck and it is pre-set. They say, 'For that area, we use a certain wrecker service.'"

"Their angle is quickness, and that some are open 24 hours a day. There are boundaries which they use in each area."

"Last year, when there was a big riot at the Mississippi River low water dam, state police called for tow trucks and there was a battle between a tow truck operator and some of the others. A trooper got into a big argument about it."

Some towing firms in Madison County have been questioned by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, it is being asserted.

News of the federal investigation was disclosed exclusively by the Press-Record. Both the FBI and Internal Revenue Service are participating, and these questioned have included a number of deputies.

Spokesmen for the sheriff department have said the investigation is merely a response to deputies' statements and is otherwise baseless.

Some deputies disagree and have voiced concern over what they view as the slow investigative progress, and about their personal safety.

James N. McKinney, 18, of Rural Route Two, Box 781, Granite City, was pronounced dead on arrival at 8:10 p.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Hc. after injuries suffered in an auto accident at 7:40 p.m. at 709 East Chain of Rocks Road.

Mr. McKinney was a passenger in an auto driven by Steven Davis, eastbound on Chain of Rocks Road. The Davis auto began to pass a car driven by Victor G. Schwartz of Alton when Schwartz allegedly started to make a left turn into a motel, officers reported.

Schwartz was released on a notice to appear by the Madison County Sheriff's Department after he was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to signal a turn.

Busy pace at plant

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Employment is at an all-time high at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant here, where production and shipping quotas have reached record-breaking levels in the past few weeks.

Paul H. Kelly, manager of the firm's Granite City plant, said Friday that over 2,100 employees are working full-time and overtime. The A. O. Smith plant here produces frames for General Motors' large-size autos, and GM's sales are at an all-time high with favorable acceptance by the public of the 1977 model cars, Kelly said.

"GM downsized the 1977 models in the larger autos, such as the Chevrolet Impala, and produced a very nice car with better mileage. They are really selling," the plant manager said.

Kelly explained that GM reduced the overall weight of the larger vehicles, and shortened the length slightly, but increased the interior space in most instances.

As far as the Granite City plant is concerned, this year's changeover to the 1978 model cars will be a "relatively minor project compared to other years," Kelly said.

"We believe we can make the necessary changes without hardly noticing it," the plant manager said. Changes to the production lines are expected to require only a one-week shutdown at the plant.

Although GM has not yet announced the model changeover date, Kelly said it will probably occur in early August.

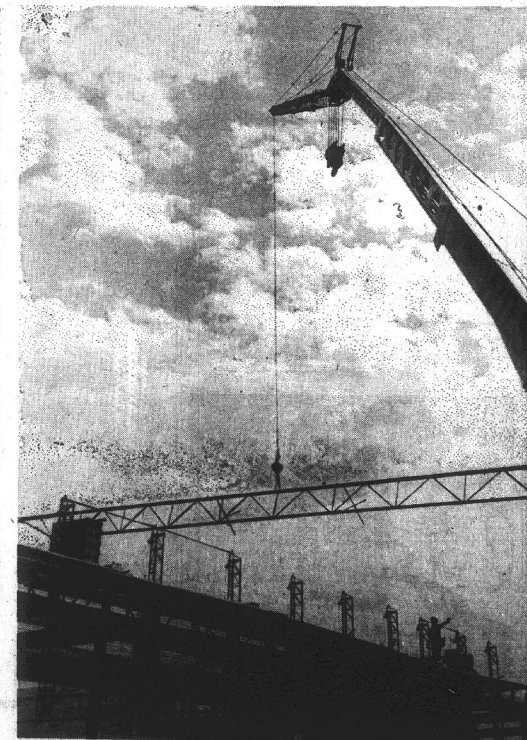

For the 1978 models, GM is planning to downsize its intermediate range vehicles, such as the Monte Carlo, among others.

Changes in the intermediate cars will not affect the Granite City plant, as frames for these models are produced by A. O. Smith at its Milwaukee plant. There are some problems with producing at a record-breaking level, Kelly said. Shipping schedules are more

Observe child carefully after any viral illness

(American Medical Association)
 Reye's Syndrome is a serious illness that often is fatal to children. It usually follows shortly after a viral illness, such as flu or chicken pox. Of the thousands of children that come down with the flu each winter, only a few, statistically, will develop Reye's Syndrome. But for those few, it will be very serious. Usually the child will have completely recovered from the first illness and be back in school or at play before the symptoms of Reye's appear. Sudden, persistent vomiting is almost always the first sign, followed closely by complaints of fatigue, general listlessness and apathy. If your child shows these symptoms, contact your doctor immediately. Mental disorientation occurs soon after the vomiting ceases. The child may become totally irrational — screaming, striking out, and unable to recognize family members and other familiar faces. Unconsciousness soon follows. Reye's Syndrome is not always fatal. Sixty per cent of children affected in a 1974 epidemic recovered completely, and doctors now are guided by lessons learned during that outbreak. You can better the odds of recovery by watching your child carefully after any viral illness and by acting quickly to get help if he displays any of the symptoms of Reye's Syndrome.

Plant pumpkins now; tips about asparagus

By CHRIS DOLL
 Area Fruit-Vegetable Advisor
 The beginning of June 1977 finds perennial crops way ahead of normal. Strawberry harvest is completed when it should just be starting. Raspberries and cherries are ripening, at least two weeks ahead of normal. Rainfall has been spotty and only lucky gardeners can enjoy the luxury of not watering for sustained growth. June is a growing month and plants will need water for proper development. Here are some garden happenings to be alert for:

1. Many fruit trees are heavily infested with aphids or plant lice. Usually, they congregate on the terminals and take the sap from young leaves. They can cause stunting of new growth and also give off honeydew, which is messy and attracts ants. Natural predators will frequently catch up with the control aphids, but sprays of malathion or diazinon will also reduce populations of aphid.
2. Plant pumpkins now for Halloween. The take about 110 to 120 days to mature so they'll be ready by late October.
3. Spray fruit trees that have a crop of fruit. Use an all-purpose fruit tree spray mix or use your own approved mix. Non-bearing trees should not need a spray unless insect pests begin feeding upon the foliage. Read and follow the label before spraying maturing fruits.
4. Quit harvesting asparagus by mid-month. This crop has been using up stored food reserves from the roots and now needs time to replenish itself. After the last cutting, apply 25 pounds per 100 square feet of 12-12-12 or other complete garden fertilizer to the planting. This will provide plenty of nutrients for growth for next year's crops.
5. Continue harvesting rhubarb if you wish — providing that the plants are kept fertilized and watered. Rhubarb will continue to grow and produce if the essential ingredients of water and nutrients are present.
6. Make continued plantings of crops such as sweet corn, green beans and cucumbers. This will provide extra harvest periods for expired or insect-damaged plantings.
7. Spray the trunks of peach trees and other stone fruit trees with carbaryl (Sevin) for peach borer control. Use four tablespoons of chemical per gallon and wet the trunk and crotch areas with the solution. Repeat sprays will be needed in early July and early August.
8. Cultivate sweet potatoes and apply dacthal herbicide thereafter. This treatment will provide weed control until the vines are growing and shading the soil.
9. Don't let the weeds get ahead of you. Light hoeings or shallow cultivation will prevent weed problems. No weeds should be allowed to make seeds in the vegetable garden area.
10. Thin apples so they are seven to nine inches apart, and plums to two to three inches apart. Any insect, disease or frost damage fruit can be removed in the process. Well-spaced fruit will develop better flavor and color, and won't break down the tree.
11. Cultivate and hoe new strawberry plantings. After the patch is cleaned up, apply dacthal herbicide and water it in. This will give about eight weeks of freedom from most weeds.

Mosele will be chief judge, Barr leads criminal division

The circuit judges of the Third Judicial Circuit consisting of Madison and Bond counties have elected Victor J. Mosele chief judge for the next year. He will succeed Judge Harold R. Clark, whose term will expire June 30, it was announced Saturday.

Judge Mosele was appointed to his present office by the Supreme Court of Illinois in December 1972 to fill the unexpired term of Judge Michael Kinney, who retired.

In 1974, Judge Mosele won a contested primary election and ran unopposed in the general election in November 1974. He graduated from Washington University in 1951 and was admitted to the practice of law in Missouri and Illinois in 1952. He practiced law in Alton and East Alton from 1953 until his appointment to his present office.

Judge Mosele announced that Judge Joseph J. Barr will judge

Judges William Beatty and Moses Harrison will return to the Civil Division along with Judges John Gitchett and Horace Calvo.

Judge John DeLaurenti will continue presiding in Bond County.

Associate Judges of the Third Judicial Circuit will continue with their present assignments until September 1977, at which time new assignments will be made.

Judge Mosele resides in Alton with his wife, June. Their daughter, Rebecca, is attending Trinity University in San Antonio, Tex.

by Nameoki Township officials to drain problem areas of the township into a new stormwater sewer line along the Maryville Road extension which is now under construction.

Initially, the proposal included a stormwater line that would drain Dobrely Slough into the Maryville line.

But at the beginning of the meeting Nameoki officials — Township Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelec and Superintendent of Streets Louis Whitsell — agreed to abandon this line of thought when it was noted that a sewer line of more than one mile would have to be built to reach Maryville Road from the nearest point of connection with Dobrely Slough waters.

Mehelec told the meeting that the other phase of the Nameoki Township proposal is to construct a stormwater line from Mockingbird Lane parallel to Stratford Lane to connect with a spur into the Maryville Road stormwater sewer.

In subsequent discussion, Mehelec and Whitsell said the Stratford Lane stormwater line would involve construction of a lift station and force main. They said they thought the cost would run $100,000 to $150,000 and admitted the township highway department would have to seek funding through state or federal grants.

"We want to get some kind of a go ahead agreement among all the officials here so we can start working on the project," Mehelec said. "We have had meetings before but all we get done is a lot of talk."

But Lester Miller, Madison County superintendent of highways, said he believed there would be no chance at all for Nameoki Township to hook into the Maryville stormwater line "because the sewers for the new roadway have been designed to handle the stormwater flow that is already there."

He said that transfer of stormwater from other watersheds into the Maryville line would overload the highway sewers and cause water to back up in the Maryville Road area.

Ed Juneau, of the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab engineering firm which is doing the engineering work for the Maryville Road project and also handles projects for Nameoki Township suggested that Nameoki should revive the long-standing project calling for an open drainage ditch along the A&S Railroad right-of-way from the Dobrely Slough area to Horseshoe Lake.

"You are talking about a lot of money (for the Stratford Lane line) when you consider construction of the line, a pumping station, maintenance, power costs and employees to operate it," Juneau said. "I think it would be far better for you to consider using that money for your other plan to build a 20 or 30-foot ditch to Horseshoe Lake."

Mehelec suggested that if authority could be obtained for the Stratford Lane line now, it would relieve any further delay that might be encountered after the road construction is completed and the highway is turned over to Granite City for maintenance.

"We realize that Granite City may annex the Wilshire area after Maryville Road is completed, but we would be willing to maintain the sewer line and pump station until the time that happens," Mehelec said.

Whitsell and Mehelec agreed that such a line draining surface water from the Wilshire holding pond could, in the event of heavy rains, retain the water in the ponding area until Maryville Road line were cleared, and the water then drained out of the holding pond through the Stratford Lane line, into the Maryville Road line.

Whitsell told the meeting that "unless something is done and done soon, I predict that flooding in the Wilshire area is going to be much worse than it has been or now is in the Dobrely Slough area because of the court ruling which held that we can't drain the water in that area in its natural course eastward, but must run that water westward."

Helen Hawkins, a Nameoki Township precinct committeeman and a representative of some owners who have been seeking flood relief in the Dobrely Slough area, asked Robinson if the county's plans for construction of Maryville Road had been submitted to the sanitary district for review under an ordinance which gives the sanitary district authority to approve or disapprove construction that might affect drainage.

Robinson replied that "I personally don't know if it or not."

Whitsell asked the group if it

Gun, pocket watch, knives are stolen

A burglar cut the screen on a rear door to enter the home of Jessie Winters, 2627 W. 22nd St. and stole a 17 jewel gold pocket watch, a .38 caliber pistol with a four-inch barrel, a derringer gun, a table-lighter and plastic bag containing a collection of pocket knives, the householder reported at 2:45 p.m. Thursday.

Bedrooms were ransacked and drawers were overturned on the bed, he said. Several items were situated at one side of the dwelling ready to be moved outside, causing police to speculate the intruder had been scared away.

could tell him "who is the drainage authority" for the Nameoki area since the township is "limited in such authority and since the township is located in the sanitary district."

"If the Wilshire area was flooded out and the people decided to sue somebody — just who is the authority who would they sue?" Whitsell asked.

Omar Brummitt of Cahokia, a trustee of the sanitary district board, said he believed that Nameoki Township's first step would be to obtain permission for a Maryville Road tap-on from the Granite City Council.

Once that is done, he said, Nameoki Township could continue its planning to finance and build such a line.

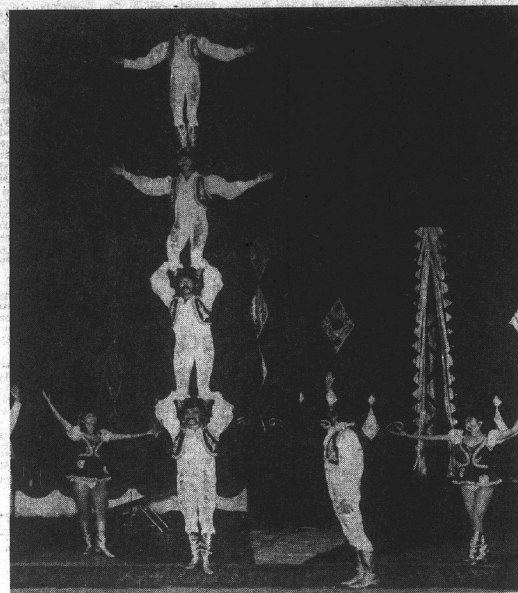

John Kessler, roads engineer of the Illinois Department of Transportation, said, however, that he believed the township "will have to go beyond the city."

He said that Maryville Road is being built with motor fuel tax funds, and that "motor fuel tax funds may be used only for street drainage and not for drainage of private property. They cannot be used for drainage of some other watershed."

Mehelec suggested that those attending the meeting make an inspection of the area involved. After the meeting broke up, several of the officials accompanied Mehelec and Whitsell to the Wilshire ponding area for an inspection of the area in which the township proposes to build the stormwater line.

Following that visit, Mehelec said, it was agreed that Nameoki Township will request Granite City aldermen to approve a resolution that would authorize a tap-on of the proposed new line at Stratford Lane. Once that authority is obtained, another meeting will be called to make further plans.

Whitsell asked the group if it

Several aerial gymnasts will be performing at various times during the circus, which will also include "Jorge's Unpredictable Car," "Al's Ponies," an act with eight white miniature ponies and Roger's bare-back riders, with five Arabian riders performing unusual stunts on speeding horses.

The Alnad Shrine Circus band directed by Al Youngman will open the performances and the entire company of the L. N. Fleckles and Co. production will gather for the grand finale.

Al Dawley will serve as announcer and equestrian director, Ernie McLean is the vocalist and Ron Kelroy is the property man for the extravaganza.

The kickoff parade in downtown Belleville was held Friday night and the circus then opened there Saturday night at the Belle-Clair Fairgrounds.

The local parade, directed by Tom Hundley and Kelly Hogan, will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at 25th Street and Madison Avenue and go east on Madison Avenue. It will pass a reviewing stand at the Bellemore Village Shopping Center while moving north on Nameoki Road and will end at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Circus performances will open Wednesday, June 8, at the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road (Route 203) and continue Thursday and Friday, June 9 and 10, for 7:30 p.m. shows.

Seminary graduate

Terry M. Moore is one of 72 graduates of the Reformed Theological Seminary in Jackson, Miss.

He was awarded the master of Christian education and master of divinity degrees in commencement exercises held May 27. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Moore Sr. of Granite City.

Moore holds a bachelor of arts degree in English from the University of Missouri in Columbia, and before entering the seminary worked on the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ at the University of Arkansas.

He and his wife, the former Susan Adams of Knoxville, Tenn., are parents of three children, Kevin, Kristy and Ashley.

During his seminary study, the Rev. Moore served as interim pastor for Trinity Presbyterian Church in Jackson, and as director of Christian Education at Covenant Presbyterian Church.

He has been called to serve as minister of Christian Education at Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Reformed Theological Seminary, founded in 1886 with 17 students and five faculty members, now has a student body of 265 and a faculty of 18. The seminary serves all branches of evangelical Christianity, but especially churches of the Presbyterian and Reformed faith.

He compared the current work force and high production rate to what has happened in other years.

"In 1973, the bottom dropped out of the full-size car market and there were periods in 1974 and 1975 when we were forced to shut down for short periods. "We were really struggling just to keep the doors open," Kelly said.

The doors of A. O. Smith are wide open now and the frames are moving out faster than ever before to meet the wishes of the public for the 1977 General Motors cars.

University Center board reorganized

New officers and committee members for a reorganized University Center Board (UCB) have been announced at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The UCB involves students in operation of the University Center building and provides students with educational experiences through the performance of their responsibilities.

Tony Cummins, outgoing UCB president, and Sue Sackett, new president for UCB, both of Fairview Heights, said the organization now includes three officers—president, vice president for programs and vice president for building review; six program committees—Films, Issues and Ideas, Leisure Activities, Performing Arts, Public Relations, and Visual Arts; and a new governing council with 13 members.

Duties of the Governing Council include: review and approval of internal budget for UCB; advise University Center director on matters affecting policy, management, budget and operations of the center; review and approve the proposed budget of the Program Council; and act as an advisory council in selecting University Center personnel.

Along with UCB President Sue Sackett, other officers are Mark Boef of Granite City, vice president for programs, and Wilma Stauders of St. Louis, vice president for building review.

New committee coordinators for the 1977-78 UCB are: Maggie Darakjian of Granite City, Films; Laura Daskhe of Caseyville, Issues and Ideas; Donnell Riels of Carlyle, Leisure Activities; Sue Leibert of Elgin, Performing Arts; Hazel Johnson of Chicago Heights, Public Relations; and Lisa Villotti of Mascoutah, Visual Arts.

Two persons selected from within the UCB to serve on the board of Belleville and Beth Rodgers of East St. Louis. Other members of the Council will be selected by the University Senate.

PAUL WALTER JOHN McCREARY

Walter, McCreary transfers announced

Paul Walter, former industrial relations vice president at Granite City Steel, is returning to that position after an absence of 13 months. He has been serving in National Steel Corporation's St. Louis office as assistant vice president-industrial relations for National Steel.

Triggering the move, announced late last week at Granite City Steel, was the reassignment of industrial relations vice president John McCreary to other duties at National Steel's corporate headquarters in Pittsburgh. Walter joined National Steel's Midwest Steel Division at Portage, Ind., in 1961.

In 1965, he took over industrial relations responsibilities for the National Steel Service Center, Inc. and early in 1972 he was named vice president-industrial relations at Granite City Steel.

8 youngsters, 11 to 16, questioned after police locate 'hobo jungle'

Two juvenile boys were arrested for alleged auto burglary at 1:15 a.m. Saturday, and a 20-year-old man was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors and six other juveniles, three girls and three boys, were taken to police headquarters for questioning.

After the two boys allegedly were observed by police burglarizing an auto in the 2800 block of Yale Avenue, and were arrested, officers learned of a "hobo jungle" used by a group of youngsters.

The "jungle" is a heavily wooded area about 100 yards north of the end of Princeton Avenue and Wilson Park Lane. The area is well hidden by high weeds around it.

At about 7 a.m. Saturday morning, police converged on the area and took the other six children, ages 11 to 14, and the 20-year-old, into custody for questioning.

Police found a make-shift clubhouse had been erected. Numerous beer cans, clear plastic bags such as those used to carry and roll-your-own cigarette papers were found throughout the area.

It was learned that the children had been there all night, officers said. Many were asleep when police arrived.

A small quantity of prescription drugs also was found on two of the children.

Parents of the juveniles were called to the station. Police tried counseling the parents about allowing children to run loose, pointing out various law violations among other problems created by the lack of parental control, particularly at the young ages of the children involved.

The make-shift shelter was set aside at about 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Who burned it or why is unknown by police, although one officer thought it could have been burned to destroy possible other items.

The two boys charged with auto burglary were taken to the Madison County detention home in Edwardsville.

The 20-year-old is being held pending a court appearance today.

Elbert Lipe dies today

Elbert T. Lipe, 77, of 3717 South Drive, Ill. for one year, died at 6:05 a.m. today at the Colonial Haven Nursing Home. He was born in Panama, Ill., and resided in Murphysboro, Ill., prior to moving here five years ago.

Mr. Lipe was a retired railroad inspector. He was a member of an Assembly of God Church and also belonged to the Woodmen of the World.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Alma Lipe; two sons, Norris B. Lipe and Elbert Lipe Jr., both of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Mamie Gillespie of Litchfield, Ill., and Mrs. Irene Borth of Edwardsville; a brother, Bert Lipe of Clearwater, Fla.; 10 grand children and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at a funeral home in Murphysboro, Ill. Burial will be in Tower Grove Cemetery, Murphysboro.

Mrs. Sanderson dies

Mrs. Ella F. Sanderson, 96, a resident of Colonial Haven Nursing Home for four years, died at 2:55 a.m. Friday at the nursing home.

She was born in Illinois and resided here 56 years. Mrs. Sanderson was employed as a nurse aide at St. Elizabeth Hospital for 20 years before she retired. She was a member of the Church of God.

Her husband, John Sanderson, died in 1959. Survivors include two sons, Ben Greer of Granite City and James Sanderson of Springfield, Ill.; 12 grand children and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Police probe car theft, injury in hit-run mishap

A 21-year-old Granite City man is the subject of an investigation by local police and Washington Park Police Department in connection with an auto accident occurring late Saturday night or early Sunday morning in which a pedestrian was struck and seriously injured in the vicinity of Bunkum Road.

The driver reportedly informed a local officer about the accident when police were summoned to the man's former home at 1:10 a.m. Sunday.

Washington Park police, who refused to release information about the investigation this morning, reportedly cited the Granite City man in two traffic charges and released him on $200 cash bond. Other charges may be preferred, pending the outcome of the injured pedestrian's condition, it was learned.

An investigation by Granite City police into a possible auto theft charge also is being pursued.

An auto owned by a Granite City woman, believed to have been involved in the accident, was towed from Granite City to Washington Park and impounded early Sunday.

The interest rate on any SBA share of a loan made in this connection is 6 1/2 per cent.

Smith said auto also may be available through the Departments of Commerce, Agriculture and Interior. These departments should be contacted directly, he added.

For further SBA information, Smith urged affected persons to contact a local banker, the SBA district office at 219 S. Dearborn in Chicago or the SBA branch office at the Illinois National Bank Building, One North Old State Plaza in Springfield. The SBA phone number in Springfield is 217-525-4416.

He stressed that, to qualify for such a loan, a business must show not only loss of revenue, but must have been placed in a position of some jeopardy as a result of the loss.

Gil Georgeff, former GC resident, marks 25 years in school service

Gil Georgeff, principal of Blue Springs (Mo.) Junior High School and a former Quad-Cityan, did not drive to work one day recently, and he didn't walk.

He was chauffeured by Dr. Gale Bartow, R-4 district superintendent, to commence a day honoring Georgeff for his 25 years of service in the district.

When Georgeff and Dr. Bartow arrived at the junior high school, a special flag for the occasion was flying below the Stars and Stripes.

A huge banner hanging in the school's main hall proclaimed the day "Gil Georgeff Day" and students, faculty and staff wore ribbons for the event.

After Georgeff finished his routine morning chores at the school and received a special proclamation from the district and city, he was taken to breakfast by Dr. Bartow.

When school was out for the day, Georgeff attended a reception in his honor in the school library. Past and present school board members, teachers and patrons attended.

The individual needs of the students are the most important thing to Georgeff.

"We try to treat the students equally but it isn't always easy since every student is different," said Georgeff. "When we can meet the individual needs that is what it is all about."

Because of the growth of the district since I came here in 1952, certain teaching methods and procedures have had to change.

The district has had to change. With growth there always are advantages and disadvantages but because of the growth we are able to offer more services and a larger curriculum.

Individualization in the classrooms is what Georgeff and his faculty are trying to accomplish and to do this the district is offering the alternative school counselors, reading specialists, speech therapists, and learning disability teachers.

Georgeff was born in Granite City, Ill., and attended Central Methodist College in Fayette where he participated in football, basketball, track and baseball for four years.

In football he was named to the Little All-American team for two years and in basketball his team participated in the NAIB (now NAIA) tournament for two years.

He was named to Who's Who Among Students in American College and University and received the Estes Award for leadership.

When he graduated in 1951, he received degrees in science and physical education.

Today Georgeff is in charge of 1,050 in grades eight and nine. Several years ago before Bill McCarter was built the junior high housed 1,340 seventh, eighth, and ninth graders.

"It is hard to be a student today," said Georgeff. "Because there is so much outside stimuli, it is more difficult to make decisions."

"They have more resources to choose from and are kept so busy trying to meet a schedule some become very frustrated."

"At the junior high level we are caught in the middle because we feel a student needs to explore many different things and be exposed to as much as possible."

"The background of evaluation and judgment will become very valuable to the students later as they begin to make career and life choices."

Georgeff sees the academic areas as changing over the past 20 years. He said 20 years ago a car was still considered a luxury but today it is considered a necessity especially in the suburbs so therefore drivers education becomes more important.

Athletic used to be just recreation but today it can be a pretty good living. Basics such as science and English are still important because there are wider ranges among careers to choose from than need an academic background.

Georgeff feels students are responsible for some of their achievements because school will only let what they put into it.

"We can provide the encouragement and motivation," he said, "but only they can put the effort into learning.

"Students are more sensitive to things around them and are much more open today. Many times today teachers have to justify why things are being done rather than have the student readily accept the teacher's word it needs to be done."

"Sometimes adults are not tolerant enough and we forget our students are still only 12, 13 or 14. But there must be tolerance on both sides."

"I believe totally in a liberal arts education," he said. "People need to be aware of more than one specialty. In a democratic society people need a broad background to make relevant decisions."

Georgeff's mother, Mrs. Tasa Georgeff, resides at 1742 Maple St., Granite City. The principal and his wife, Helen, have a married son, Gib. Gib and his wife, Robin, were among those who participated in the event honoring Gil Georgeff.

Royal Rangers host pinewood derby race

Royal Rangers, Outpost 73 of Tri-City Park Tabernacle held a pinewood derby race last week at the church for its members and awarded trophies following the race.

The three groups participating included Trailblazers, ages 12, 13 and 14; Pioneers, 9, 10 and 11; and Buckaroos 7 and 8-year olds. The older group, Trail Rangers who are 15, 16 and 17, were in charge of the preliminary details and also officiated at the race.

Trophy winners included Kelly Compton, Trailblazers; Doug Elliott, Pioneers; and Daryl Meyenburg, Buckaroos. After the presentation the three winners competed for the top honor and Daryl Meyenburg, won the event.

Following the race competition, the parents of the boys voted on the best looking car, excluding the winners. Those selected were Keith Wilson, Trailblazers; Mark Barnfield, Pioneers and Tim Hutchison, Buckaroos.

Prizes were presented by Senior Commander Jerry Freeman. He also announced the Ranger program would conclude for the summer, following the camporee held during the weekend. The group will convene again in August, he said.

Advancement awards were given to Tom Naler, a second class Trailblazer pin; Daryl Meyenburg, a second class Pioneer pin, which is the highest award a Buckaroo can earn. Trailblazer Keith Wilson received the senior guide bars, confirming his duties with the Buckaroo group.

The members agreed to have a new award which will be given to a leader participating in the annual float trips. A trophy with the insignia plate reading "Royal Ranger leaders annual float trip, upside down award" will be presented to the leader who qualifies by his canoe capsizing at least one time during the event.

Leaders had not met to vote on the 1977 winner so the trophy was awarded to Tom Elliott who experienced four capsizings in last years trip, it was noted.

Senior Commander Freeman announced there will be many and various activities arranged for the fall and winter months.

Group will attend women's conference

The International Women's Year Conference, Friday through Sunday, June 10-12, in Normal, Ill., will feature as keynote speaker Miss Bella Abzug, and workshops such as "Legal Status of Homemakers." The keynote is a former member of Congress. The Metro-East Women's Political Caucus of Granite City is hoping to attract women from all levels of life to occupy a bus going to Normal for the conference.

The conference has arranged for scholarships for those who cannot afford to pay for room and board.

For more information concerning the scholarships, Quad-Cityans may call a toll-free number, 800-322-0071. For information concerning the bus or carpools, they may call Liz Needles at 877-7577.

"We hope to see all women there ready to form new goals and objectives which will be beneficial to all women in Illinois," the local coordinator commented.

MARRIED. Airman First Class and Mrs. William Keith Asher Jr., who were married in an early evening ceremony at the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue. Formerly Miss Dorothy Jeanene Lewis, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert G. Lewis Jr., 1631 Minerva Ave.

The wedding of Miss Dorothy Jeanene Lewis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert G. Lewis Jr., 1631 Minerva Ave., and Airman First Class William Keith Asher Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Asher, 2620 Pine St., was solemnized, on May 21, at the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue.

Bouquets of blue elegance roses, white mums and gladiolus accented a golden arch and burning tapers in spiral candelabra, provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Marvin Peters, at 5:30 p.m.

Sandy Baker sang The Lord's Prayer and Donna Palliser and Darlene Miles played guitars and sang "Love."

Members of the bridal party were Mrs. David Schaus, a sister of the bride, a matron of honor and David Street, the groom's cousin, who served as best man.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Garry Strain, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Leslie Bryarly, Miss Sue Ann Sykes and the flower girl, Michelle Schaus, the bride's niece.

Each of the attendants wore a blue floral chiffon gown fashioned with a wide collar which extended over the shoulders to create short sleeves. The skirt featured ruffled tiers to the hemline.

They wore lavender picture hats and carried bouquets of blue elegance and white Sweetheart roses with baby's breath.

Serving as groomsmen and ushers were Delmar Lewis, a brother of the bride, David Schaus and Garry Strain, brothers-in-law of the bride, David Seay, a cousin of the bride, and Grant Douglas.

Miss Penny Asher and Mike Asher, a sister and brother of the groom, were the candlelighters.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length white Chantilly lace over ivory taffeta gown designed with a full cathedral length train, edged with a lace flounce.

Long tapered sleeves were set into an Empire bodice featuring a high round neckline, traced with a tiny lace ruffle.

Her cathedral length veil of tulle illusion was secured to a halo headpiece and she held a cascade of white Sweetheart roses and greenery.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Asher at a reception held at the American Legion Hall, 1825 State St. A rehearsal dinner was served in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's mother wore a floor length yellow chiffon over taffeta gown and the groom's mother selected a formal peach knit dress with floral chiffon sleeves.

The newlyweds are residing in Morrisville, N.Y., where the groom is serving with the U.S. Air Force.

Both young people are graduates of North High School. Among the out of town guests here for the wedding were grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Street, Patterson, Mo. and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Asher of Piedmont, Mo., and also Mr. and Mrs. James How and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Procter, Mr. and Mrs. Dolan Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Asher and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Masinelli, Mr. and Mrs. David Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Masinelli, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Masinelli, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Wislimer, Mr. and Mrs. John Sievers, Mr. and Mrs. Ed McCully, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Washburn.

Triple softball talent in the Marmion family

When participating teams of the Madison County Baptist Association girls' softball program arrive to compete each Tuesday evening at the Baptist Field in Mitchell, whichever squad is scheduled to face Granite City's Second Baptist Church must contend with three opposing forces — Marlene, Maxine and Shannon Marmion.

Marlene holds down the first base position, Maxine is situated in left centerfield, and Shannon ranges between second and third as the squad's shortstop.

Together they are not always the "name of the game" for the three Marmion sisters.

As players for different teams in Women's SA League competition at Wilson Park's diamond eight in the Granite City Park District softball program each Thursday evening, they often find themselves competing against each other.

Marlene plays for the Sammy's team, Maxine for Jack's Auto Repair and Shannon for Bill's Auto Body. All three teams have been relatively successful with the help of the three close relatives.

"When we play at the Baptist Field," says Shannon, "we have an advantage over other teams because of our relationship. We can almost anticipate what each of us is going to do in a given situation."

"But in park softball," she adds, "it's strictly business. Every girl is on her own."

As was the case with Letitia Marmion, who won the title of Miss Granite City in 1968, the others are concerned about their appearance. Shannon was a contestant in last year's Miss Madison County Fair pageant.

"Our hectic playing schedule is almost too much. Our parents some weeks hardly get to see us," a Marmion sister commented. All are employed.

"But, though we are away from home most evenings, we remain a close family unit."

Shannon, who has a .483 batting average, relates that Bill's Auto Body's third-place finish last month in a 16-team Amateur Softball Association tournament at Wood River, in which the squad edged Fidelity Produce 6-4, has been the highlight thus far of the 1977 season for her.

As for twins Marlene and Maxine, wins over Bill's, and their sister, would give them reason for being joyful.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marmion, 3015 Denver St., the three believe their interest in sports started at home while grade school students.

"Mom would take us into the street near our home and play 'hit the bat,'" recalls Marlene.

"After awhile, we were hooked on softball."

Another sister, Letitia, was also active on the Quad-City sports scene until her marriage a few years ago.

They first got a taste of league-style softball during two years with the Apple Valley Motel softball team.

Being the oldest of the three at age 21, Shannon has been an active player for eight seasons.

Marlene and Maxine are aged 19.

They have been members of the Second Baptist team ever since a women's church league was initiated five years ago.

All are active in the church as well.

Second Baptist lost only one game while posting 40 wins in the five seasons ending in 1976.

This year, the team has won four and lost one.

"We aren't superstars or anything like that," explains Maxine.

"Being able to reach base whether on a hit or a walk to us means we are contributing something toward the overall team effort."

When summer softball concludes, the Marmion sisters can be found on the basketball courts of Lincoln Place Community Center, competing as players with Second Baptist in a park district league.

Marlene, tallest of the trio, is a five-foot-five center. Maxine, at 5'3", holds down a guard position, and Shannon, at 5'4", plays a forward position.

"We tried playing soccer once with the Madison County Girls Association," one recalled.

"But our legs were taking terrible beatings."

"Shannon even suffered a broken leg once."

As was the case with Letitia Marmion, who won the title of Miss Granite City in 1968, the others are concerned about their appearance. Shannon was a contestant in last year's Miss Madison County Fair pageant.

"Our hectic playing schedule is almost too much. Our parents some weeks hardly get to see us," a Marmion sister commented. All are employed.

Steel shot required here for '77 waterfowl hunting

Final regulations defining areas where steel shot must be used for waterfowl hunting in the Granite and Mississippi Flyways beginning in 1977 have been issued by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The new regulations will affect 13 of 17 states in the Atlantic Flyway and 11 of 14 states in the Mississippi Flyway, the latter including Illinois. Similar steel shot regulations will go into effect in specified areas of the Central and Pacific Flyways beginning in 1978.

The new rules do not include some areas that are managed by the Fish and Wildlife Service. The regulations for those lands and waters will be released in the coming weeks.

At the same time, the Service will explain the exemption of certain gauges of shotguns. Such an exemption will permit the use of lead shot for hunting waterfowl with shotgun gauges other than 12-gauge.

A list of proposed steel shot zones for the Atlantic and Mississippi Flyways was made public late 1976. The final regulations differ somewhat from that proposal.

Some of the proposed steel shot zones have been omitted, enlarged, reduced or described in greater detail in the final rules.

The areas described within Illinois are designated as steel shot zones for waterfowl seasons beginning in 1977 and ending in 1978:

1. On all waters and on all lands within 150 yards of these waters in the following counties: Marshall, Putnam, Henderson, Rock Island, Calhoun and Jersey. Drainage ditches and temporary sheet water more than 150 yards from the above described waters are exempted from this regulation.

2. On all state-managed lands and waters, including the following public hunting areas: Anderson Lake, Baldwin, Bluff Lake, Carlyle Lake and subimpoundments, Chain-O-Lakes, Forbes State Park, Grass Lake, Grundy County, Horseshoe Lake (Alexander County), Horseshoe Lake (Madison County).

Also, Kankakee River, Lake DePue, Lake Shelbyville and subimpoundments, LaRue Scatters, Marshall County, Mermet, Oakwood Bottoms, Pottery Marsh, Rend Lake, and subimpoundments, Rice Lake, Sagonos, Sanghis Lake State Park, Savanna Ordnance, Mississippi Lake, Sparland, Spring Lake, Union County, Will County, William Powers and Woodford County.

3. All waters managed for waterfowl hunting by the Illinois Department of Conservation on the Mississippi River, the Illinois River, and the Rock River from pool 12 at the city of East Dubuque south to the lock and dam at pool 26.

Steel shot required here for '77 waterfowl hunting

Final regulations defining areas where steel shot must be used for waterfowl hunting in the Granite and Mississippi Flyways beginning in 1977 have been issued by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The new regulations will affect 13 of 17 states in the Atlantic Flyway and 11 of 14 states in the Mississippi Flyway, the latter including Illinois. Similar steel shot regulations will go into effect in specified areas of the Central and Pacific Flyways beginning in 1978.

The new rules do not include some areas that are managed by the Fish and Wildlife Service. The regulations for those lands and waters will be released in the coming weeks.

At the same time, the Service will explain the exemption of certain gauges of shotguns. Such an exemption will permit the use of lead shot for hunting waterfowl with shotgun gauges other than 12-gauge.

A list of proposed steel shot zones for the Atlantic and Mississippi Flyways was made public late 1976. The final regulations differ somewhat from that proposal.

Some of the proposed steel shot zones have

34 runs in Legion scoring avalanche

District 22 American Legion Baseball League competition opened with a bang yesterday for Tri-City Post 113 and Glen Carbon's Legionnaires, as the two battling it out on the diamond at Mitchell and Tri-City coming out on top 27-7.

Art Jovi's Glen Carbon Post 435 squad won faces Belleville at eight o'clock today at Belleville's Citizen Park and then plays host to Bethalto in a 6 p.m. contest Wednesday at Wilson Park.

Conrad "Babe" Champion's Post 113 nine hosts Highland on Wednesday at 6 p.m. at the GCIS South diamond (Pawling curve) and then travels to Mascoutah on Thursday for a 6 p.m. game.

Glen Carbon attempted to utilize three different hurlers in the opening inning—Terry Page, Mike Hubbard and Kevin Ragano—but Post 113 got nine runs in that frame.

Tom Heinrich started the onslaught with a walk, Keith Champion tripled, Larry Heagy doubled and Mike Clark, John Lakin and Jim Thurman all drew walks.

Danny Scheus continued with a two-run single, Henry Smith walked and Champion doubled and Heagy both singled.

Glen Carbon tallied two runs in that inning when Page

Tri-City's lead with four runs in the third inning as Schmidt singled, Jeff Fields doubled, Rich Awalt and Jodi Falloni singled, two runners scored on a fielding error and Vic Graham singled for a run.

Tri-City continued its blistering scoring pace in the third, scoring five runs on a homer by Heinrich, hits by Smith, Champion, and Clark and a homer by Lakin.

Doug Rains relieved starter Lakin on the mound in the fourth inning, and Tri-City bats belted his effort with six runs and a 26-6 lead on hits by Scheus, Heinrich, Smith, Champion, Heagy, Clark and Lakin.

Post 113 upped its lead by four more runs in the fifth frame when Smith reached on an error, Champion walked, Heagy was hit by a pitch, and Joe Parenti, Paul Evans, Scheus and Heinrich all singled.

Sixthinning action saw Glen Carbon score once on a walk to Graham and singles by Mike Simps and Page.

Champion then led off with a solo homer, Rains singled, Jeff Tretler walked, Evans singled in Rainer and Tretter scored on a wild pitch.

Twin triumphs by Post 113

Tri-City Post 113's Legionnaires remain undefeated in non-league exhibition contests, with three wins against no losses, after taking both ends of a twinbill Saturday at Trenton, 10-7 and 6-1.

The hosts held the lead twice in the first contest, but Tri-City bats continued to pound out hits, supporting the pitching of Tom Muhl for three innings; Tim Kirskey two innings and winning hurler Doug Rains, two frames.

Trenton scored in the opening frame and added four in the third and two in the fifth.

Randy Smith, who had three hits, blasted a solo homer for Post 113 in the first inning.

Later trailing 5-1, Mike Clark walked and Larry Heagy tripled him in during fourth-inning action.

Tri-City went ahead 6-5 in the top of the fifth with Tom Heinrich walked, Smith reached base on an error, Keith Champion homered and Clark walked and ultimately scored on Joe Parenti's single.

Host Trenton gained the lead again in that frame, but Coach Conrad "Babe" Champion's Legionnaires tied the score at 7-7 in the sixth on singles by Heinrich, Smith and John Lakin.

The final frame proved successful for Tri-City as three runners scored, Danny Scheus, Smith, Champion and

2 holiday tourneys

The Granite City Park District has set 5 p.m. Tuesday, June 28, as a deadline for its men's and women's softball league teams to register for the park's annual Fourth of July slow-pitch tournaments to be played at Worthen Park, West Granite Park and Wilson Park diamond eight.

A park spokesman notes that entries are being accepted now and until the deadline at a fee of $47.50 per team.

The men's tournament, starting July 1 and concluding on July 4, is limited to 24 teams.

The women's tournament, to be played the same dates at Wilson Park, is being limited to 12 teams.

Trophies are to be presented to the four top men's teams, and to the two top women's squads. Additional information may be obtained by calling the park office at 877-3059.

The park spokesman said the two tournaments should not be confused with scheduled Men's Class A and AA district competition, or with Women's Amateur Softball Association district play, both to be hosted by the park district.

The Men's Class A District will be held June 25 and 26 and

Mercer wins twice

A battle for the top spot in the Illinois Inter-City Baseball League continued yesterday as the eight participating teams took to diamonds for more doubleheader competition.

The Music Room Vans retained their leadership, blanking Thomas Memorial Mortuary twice, 9-0 and 5-0.

Mercury Mortuary stayed in contention at Highland-Pierson, winning 10-4 and 5-0.

Mitchell Athletic Club fell behind the leaders, splitting with the East Alan Brewers—Mitchell losing 8-2 and then winning 10-1.

Panama broke into the win column for the first time this season after eight straight losses, topping J&J Liquors twice, 7-0 and 10-1.

The Vans collected 13 hits off Thomas pitcher Jesse Brake in the first contest, and the Vans' Dave Stewart connected for a home-run off hurler Don Rains in the second game.

Mercer's Kirk Champion picked up the first game win after he relieved in the fifth by John Scott.

Steve Ashby went the distance on the mound in the second game, allowing Highland only two hits enroute to shutting out the visitors.

At Peterson singled for Mercer to start the first game. Jim Greenwald reached on an error, Bob Scott singled, Bob Hughes walked, Jeff Scarborough reached on an error and taking two runs in the score, and Larry Corey singled in a fourth run.

Four runners crossed the plate in the second inning, singles by Jack Scarborough, Greenwald, Bob Scott, Hughes, Dennis Harrington, Jeff Scarborough and Corey.

Peterson walked, Greenwald doubled and Hughes and Harrington singled for two runs. Mercer third frame before Highland garnered four runs in the fourth.

Peterson started the second contest with a run in the opening inning when Jack Scarborough and Peterson both walked and Greenwald doubled them home.

Two runs scored in the second inning. Vic Renack walked and Peterson doubled them home, followed by a fielding error and then a sacrifice fly by Peterson.

In Mercer's two-run fourth, Ken Schaefer walked, Jack Scarborough doubled, Peterson provided a sacrifice fly and Bob Scott doubled.

Mitchell mustered two runs in the first inning before the Brewers came up with six runs in the fourth and added two in the sixth to beat Ron Madden's squad.

Hector Sanabria singled, Tom Carroll walked and Bill Stotie tripled both men home in the first.

Mitchell's Randy Lyerla pitched only one inning as his team won the second contest. He was relieved by Rick Fancher.

The Brewers scored once in the first and three times in the sixth, but failed to overcome Mitchell's six-run opening frame.

Bruce Pfeiffer singled in that inning, Sanabria reached base

Walsh surprises stock car drivers

St. Louisan Pat Walsh snapped a string of losses on feature race wins by Granite City sportsman stock car drivers, leading the main event from start to finish Saturday night at Tri-City Speedway and posting his first win in two years.

Walsh, a 1973 track champion here in that division, led runner Les Gibson of Granite City across the finish line.

Granite City's Gary Becker placed third.

In late model competition on the half-mile dirt oval, Kenny Shrum of St. Charles, Mo., won a heat race and a trophy dash before working his way through the feature race field of cars from his eighth starting position to take the lead on lap three enroute to victory.

St. Louisian Willie Johnston was second behind Shrum and Wil Spaulding of Pontoon Beach was third.

Other heat race winners were: sportman — Dean Arner, Harold Byrnes and Curt Wood; late model — Jerry Sifford, Johnston and Kevin Gundaker.

Tomorrow evening, starting at seven o'clock, American Motorcycle Association-sponsored cycle racing will open its weekly racing programs, with Kenan Guy McClure attempting to defend his 1975 track title this season.

Motorcycle racing will be conducted on the quarter-mile track at Tri-City each Tuesday, from now through the month of August.

Tires smoke hottest for Texan at Gateway

Texan Raymond Beadle, making his first appearance ever on the American Hot Rod Association national circuit, defeated a top-packed field of Funny Car Class drivers enroute to taking top honors during the weekend in the Gateway Nationals.

The well-attended Friday-through-Sunday competition was held on the quarter-mile asphalt drag strip of St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

A veteran of more than a dozen years of professional racing, the 35-year-old Beadle has piloted his famed "Blue Max" race car to victory in several International Hot Rod Association meets, the most recent being the IHRA world championship last year, and the NHRA winter nationals earlier this year at Pomona, Calif.

Beadle powered his way down the dragstrip in 6.34 seconds at a speed of more than 239 miles an hour to win a heat over Gene Snow of Dallas, Tex.

The heat race victory matched Beadle and third heat race winner John Collins, driving Tom McEwen's Mongoose racer, against each other in yesterday's final round.

Collins won his preliminary event with a time of 7.04 seconds at more than 207 miles per hour.

The "Blue Max" reached the time traps at the end of the course first for the win in 6.06 seconds and was clocked at more than 210 miles per hour.

Other race class victors were: Job Allen of Los Angeles, Calif., in top fuel; Brent Bramley of Alberta, Canada, in pro-comp eliminator; Larry Lombardo of Malvern, Pa., in pro-stock; Mike McCloskey of Valencia, Calif., in top comp; Billy Weikert of Ohio in modified.

Larry Mitchell of Greenfield, N.Y., won super stock, Rick Bukowsky of Topeka, Kans., in super street; Don Spencer of Texas in stock class; Larry Neade of Springfield, Mo., in pro-electric; and Eric Funk of Roodhouse, Ill., in motorcycle.

Madison schools to join county film cooperative

The Madison School Board at a meeting Thursday night approved participation in a proposed educational film cooperative among smaller schools in Madison County.

Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent of the County Educational Service region, has suggested that smaller schools join to create a film library due to the high cost of purchasing and renting films, causing a hardship on smaller schools.

The plan would call for each school to pay at least 25 cents per student. This would mean a cost of $500 to Madison.

The Madison board thought that the idea had merit and authorized the administration to notify the regional office the district will be willing to pledge as much as 50 cents per student or $1,000 to the program.

The state of Illinois, under Title IV, would match the amount given by the various districts for the film library.

Superintendent of Schools John Patchett reported to the board that Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, informed him by letter that Senate Bill 427 extending the Public Works Employment Act has been signed by President Carter.

Cronin reported that requests for updated applications will be arriving soon and the district will have only about two weeks to return the application.

Patchett said that everything is prepared for the applications when they arrive. The district could realize about $30,000 from the act, he said.

A discussion was held on the possible creation of a new job position for a learning disabilities teacher to work mainly in the lower grades. The salary of the teacher would be reimbursed partially by the state.

A decision on the position was tabled pending further study.

The board approved the purchase of a large color picture to be framed and hung in MHS, honoring the state champion Madison Trojans as the 1977 Class A state basketball champions.

The board authorized the superintendent to prepare a tentative budget and appropriation ordinance for the regular meeting on Thursday, Aug. 4.

The board will call for final adoption of the budget and ordinance on Thursday, Sept. 15.

The school budget will be on public display at the board office for 30 days after the Aug. 4 meeting.

A discussion was held on the effectiveness of the reading program on the children in the district between board members and administrators.

It is believed that a testing program conducted at the end of the year will show that an

Among those graduating from the five-year course were Stephen D. Burdick, Michael Lee Cain and Harlen D. Earhart, all of Granite City.

The commencement speaker was Philip Sacks, a community pharmacist from Chicago, who is president of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Illinois Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal was the principal speaker at a dinner honoring the graduates.

The St. Louis College of Pharmacy, founded in 1864, is an independent institution. The four-acre campus is located at Euclid Avenue and Parkway in the west end medical area of the city.

Adequate percentage of the school children are reading well, officials said.

Water heater expansion by Smith firm

A. O. Smith Corporation has reacquired a Newark, Calif., water heater manufacturing facility and purchased other assets from National Steel Construction Company, Inc., according to an agreement between the two companies.

L. B. Smith, chairman and executive officer of A. O. Smith, and John L. McGraw, president of National Steel Construction, said the transaction is for an undisclosed amount of cash and is effective immediately.

National Steel Construction manufactures residential and commercial water heating equipment primarily for the western U. S. and western Canadian markets.

Involved in the agreement are National Steel Construction's inventories, machinery and equipment, and miscellaneous assets at Newark and at Seattle, Wash. In addition, A. O. Smith will receive all of National Steel Construction's product trade names for both residential and commercial water heaters.

There are 190 employees at the Newark plant and 80 employees at the Seattle facility. Residential water heaters are produced at Newark and specialized commercial products at Seattle.

A. O. Smith sold the Newark water heater manufacturing plant to National Steel Construction in 1965 as a result of a decision to phase out production of water heaters for the private label market.

The company decided to reacquire the facilities to increase manufacturing capacity to better serve the West Coast residential heater market and to expand its total commercial and industrial markets.

A. O. Smith's Consumer Products Division produces commercial water heating equipment, residential water heaters, hydronic heating boilers, hot water storage tanks, swimming pool heaters and food waste disposers. Sales last year were $75 million.

A. O. Smith Corp., with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer with annual sales last year in excess of $419 million. Its product line in addition to water heating equipment, includes auto frames (Granite City and Milwaukee), truck frames, electric motors, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, agricultural financing, fiber glass reinforced plastic pipe, metal powders and computer services.

'Roadeo' for bus drivers

A modern-day "roadeo" will feature the "brightest and safest" Bi-State Development Agency bus drivers in a regional competition at the Arena, with participants in June 11-12 semifinals vying for a spot in finals scheduled for Sunday, June 19.

The "roadeo," which begins at 8 a.m. each day, is open to the public without charge. The event will literally be a "busman's holiday" for participants.

Each "bronco-buster" will start off with a chance to accumulate a total of 500 points. The competition consists of a written safety test, an inspection of the bus by the driver, a judging of the operator's personal appearance, and a driving skills test in which each "busman" manipulates his or her 40-ton vehicle through a fast track under the watchful eyes of timers.

Judges for the contest will include volunteers from city, county and state police and fire departments as well as Bi-State officials.

The first-place finisher will compete in a national "roadeo" sponsored by the American Public Transportation Association in Atlanta, Ga., in October.

The winner's trip expenses will be paid by Bi-State, and the driver will receive an award of a $250 savings bond. The second-place finisher in the area event will receive a $200 savings bond, and a $100 bond will be awarded to the operator finishing third. All three will receive trophies.

Bi-State was the second transit system in the United States last year to organize such a "roadeo." Similar events subsequently have been initiated by bus companies throughout North America.

Unemployment benefit increase

The Illinois Department of Labor has just announced increases for many of the 250,000 persons who collect unemployment insurance benefits in Illinois.

Effective July 1, 1977, the new maximum weekly benefits payable to unemployment insurance claimants will be:

For a married person with dependent children $115.

For a married person with non-working spouse $138.

At present, maximum benefits are $110 and $132, respectively.

Maximum weekly benefits for a person claiming dependent children remain at $135 under current state law.

Weekly benefit amounts are set at 50 per cent of the claimant's prior wage. An additional allowance is added for dependents.

Maximums are set at the appropriate percentage of the statewide average weekly wage for covered employees, computed twice each year to reflect the state of the economy.

This is the fourth recomputation the department has had since the bill went into effect July 1, 1975.

The statewide average weekly wage has increased from $119.67 to $228.16 in recent months.

Hearing on state government revamp

Governor James R. Thompson announced today that the seventh in a series of nine public hearings on the reorganization of Illinois state government will be held in the Missouri Room of the University Center on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, June 16.

The governor encouraged all area citizens to take the opportunity to speak out on the report of the Illinois Task Force on Reorganization, released in January, as well as other ideas for increasing efficiency in state government.

Thompson first announced the statewide public hearings during a news conference on March 31.

"Our foremost concern in reorganization is improving services to the citizens, and I want input from as many individuals as possible before I propose my final plan," he said. The governor indicated that a panel, consisting of three permanent members and three area residents, will hear testimony on reorganization from public officials, special interest groups and private citizens.

The permanent members, attending all statewide reorganization public hearings, are: William Monst, academic vice-president and provost of Northern Illinois University, DeKalb; Stanley C. Johnson, former delegate to the Illinois Constitutional Convention; Malta; and Joan Schiff, special assistant to the governor on reorganization.

The remaining schedule for the statewide public hearings consists of June 21 in Moline and June 30 in Rockford.

Those who wish to testify or need additional information may contact Joan Schiff at 312-785-3787.

Among the items taken were 75 silver dollars, dated from 1900 to 1945; three cigar cylinders containing $30 in mercury dimes; two containers filled with dimes dating from 1920 to 1945; a container of dimes dating from 1920 to 1939; and 75 silver half-dollars dating from 1932 to 1939.

Meet on farm water quality

The 208 Policy Steering Committee is currently reviewing alternative technical management non-point pollution sub-plans concerning the management of livestock wastes, pesticides and agricultural erosion here.

Before submitting its recommendations to the 208 Policy Committee for adoption, the committee would like to discuss these water quality management strategies with area farm leaders, and have the opportunity to hear their comments, a spokesman said today.

For this purpose, a meeting of Madison-Monroe-St. Clair County farm leaders has been scheduled for:

Thursday, June 9, at 8 p.m. at the St. Clair County Farm Bureau, 407 East Lincoln St., Belleville.

Summaries of 208 sub-plan alternatives will be presented and discussed.

The sub-plans were developed by the 208 staff with the assistance of the Agricultural Technical Committee. The staff is a unit of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

The trailer was empty according to a Madison County Sheriff's spokesman, who also said the Federal Bureau of Investigation has entered the case as it involves theft of an interstate shipment.

Firms are challenged to build more homes and at affordable prices

Area builders and contractors were challenged Thursday night by President Kenneth A. Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to help fulfill the "bright economic promise" of the region by working together with the university in finding solutions to area problems.

Speaking to the Madison County Homebuilders Association at a dinner meeting in Edwardsville, Dr. Shaw said spectacular growth and development in this region can be achieved through the cooperation of builders, businesses, industries and the educational community.

The president pointed to numerous factors, including a recent announcement of expansion at Scott Air Force Base, which he said indicate economic prosperity for the region.

"He emphasized there also are problems which can affect the quality of life and have a 'long-range, deteriorating impact,'

Inflation, the energy crisis, and the need for a better transportation system were cited as "major problems we must face together."

Quoting a federal survey which puts the average price of a new home at more than $33,000 in Madison County and more than $50,000 nationally, Shaw said that "inflation hurts everyone. At the university, the price of books, energy expenses and inflated costs of equipment are causing us in real dollars to be operating on nearly $2 million less money annually than the university received in 1970."

In regard to housing, the SIUE president urged private developers to consider helping resolve the university's problem of not having enough housing for students.

He said more than 700 students are on the university's housing waiting list now, and he believes at least 1,000 additional would be interested in attending SIUE if housing were available.

Dr. Shaw said transportation is a serious problem for an institution which draws 90 percent of its students from a 50-mile radius.

"It's a small problem now, but it will be a fantastic one when gasoline doubles and triples in price," he said. "A major priority for all of us must be a rational, energy-conscious transportation system."

The president warned that if problems such as transportation are allowed to affect the quality of life, all of the region will suffer.

"We are interdependent; we must help one another. Any weakness in one adversely affects others."

"We can make our area a better place to live and work, and we must commit ourselves to this end."

Shaw urged the builders to use their creativity and willingness to try new ideas to help meet the growing need for housing in the region.

"Imaginative use of resources can make thousands of existing houses better than new," he said, "and I urge you to use your creativity in finding new materials and new techniques to keep costs down while building more energy-efficient houses."

Applying the same challenge to the university, the president said, "We must be certain of our goals... we must be willing to set priorities... we must cut expenses where possible."

"We must cater to new clientele such as mature adults who want to study at night and on weekends; we must look at the possibility of new delivery systems."

Shaw pointed to a number of specific ways in which the university has sought to respond to regional challenges and is contributing directly toward improving the quality of life in the area.

He cited the Environmental Resources Training Center, which trains operators for sewage treatment plants; the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services, which attacks types of community problems; the dental clinic of the School of Dental Medicine, which helps make up for the shortage of dentists in the area; and the Gerontology Program, which is exploring new ways to help older citizens.

"We believe we can demonstrate we have appreciably contributed to an improvement of the quality of life in the area," Dr. Shaw said, "and this in turn means that we have contributed to the betterment of the economy of the area."

He emphasized that the university itself, with a work force of more than 2,100 faculty, staff and students, is one of the major employers of the region.

"Last year, we operated on a total budget of $30.5 million, with more than $24 million being pumped into the regional economy in wages and salaries."

"There are many services and goods purchased out of these monies."

The president said the impact is even greater than the figures indicate because, for every dollar spent by the university, another $1.52 is generated in the area economy. For every job at the university, another half-job is created in the community, he added.

Citing the role of the university in training leaders for the area, the president said, "An educated work force is constantly sharpening its skills, thereby increasing production."

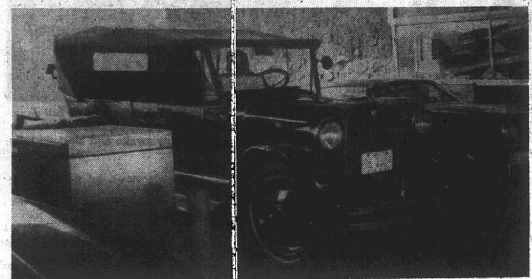

"Education teaches people how to learn, how to think, how to communicate, to understand the cultural richness of the past, and to build a better future."

"With education, the urge to contribute to the improvement of the community can be better directed."

"If we hope — and pay for — the best, we can produce citizens able to cope with the increasingly complex demands and pressures of our larger society in a truly effective and humane way."

"Our region needs such citizens, and I promise you to do my best to build a resource that will give them to you."

PAST AND PRESENT. Victor "Gene" Wilson, 1835 Market St., Madison, patronizes drive-through banking services from the seat of his 53-year-old auto, a 1924 model REO. Wilson's antique auto has a gleaming surface, a purring engine and 10 separate horn signals including a well-whistle and a musical rendition of "How Dry I Am." His trip through the banking life occurred at First Granite City National Bank where tellers have experienced customers banking from bicycles, an occasional farm tractor and at least one on horseback.

Many Kiwanians in 95th U. S. Congress

A total of 105 members of the 95th United States Congress are active or honorary members of Kiwanis. It was announced today by Allen L. Jessee, president of the Kiwanis Club of Granite City.

In addition, 15 members of the current Canadian national Parliament are Kiwanians, too, the club president said.

In making the announcement, Jessee said that such notables as Senators Baker, Dole, Goldwater, McGovern, Sparkman and Talmadge are members of U.S. Kiwanis clubs, and former Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker is also on the active list.

Jessee said that the recently completed survey of Kiwanis participation in the highest legislative bodies of both the United States and Canada dramatizes the extent to which Kiwanians involve themselves in leadership responsibilities.

Kiwanis conducts such a survey at the start of each new Congress and each new Canadian Parliament.

"Kiwanians active in Congress and in Parliament represent about 13 per cent of each body," Jessee said. "The total membership of Kiwanis is about 286,000. Kiwanis considers the United States and Canada as its two countries of origin."

Kiwanians of Illinois include Congressmen Melvin Price, a member of the East St. Louis Kiwanis Club; Dan Rostenkowski, Northwest Town Chicago Club; Edward E. Madigan, Lincoln, Ill., club; and Edward J. Dervinski, a member of the South Holland Kiwanis Club in Chicago.

Police offer tips to cut burglaries

Burglary warnings were sounded this week by the Granite City Police Department as area residents enter the summer vacation period.

Ronald J. Veizer, chief of police, asked all citizens' cooperation to help reduce the surge in burglaries which reach each summer when families leave their homes for vacation trips and weekend outings.

"By learning and practicing a few simple home protection hints, residents can keep their homes from falling victim to a burglary," Veizer said.

This month has been declared by Paul Schuler, mayor, to be "Burglary Prevention Month" here. During this month, the police department will provide information to help protect homes from burglars.

"Failure to know and practice the fundamental techniques of home protection was largely responsible for the 674 burglaries committed in our city last year. Although most people didn't intentionally invite intruders to ransack their homes, they might as well have hung up a sign saying, 'No one is home. Burglars welcome,'" Veizer commented.

A stroll around your neighborhood any day, will tell you at a glance who is away. Their porches will be cluttered with circulars, an accumulation of milk bottles on the stoop, an unkempt lawn, an empty garage with the door open or a bulging mailbox.

"All of these are tip-offs that'll broadcast, 'no one is home,' to anyone canvassing the neighborhood."

"In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted too — just look for the dark houses. It is a known fact that light is one of the best deterrents to crime, yet most homeowners go out for an evening and leave their homes completely dark."

"Or, they will go off for a weekend or vacation and leave the same light burning day and night. No light at all, or a light burning continuously, is a good giveaway, 'no one is home.'"

"A simple, but effective means of having light in your home every evening is by connecting a 'time-all automatic timing device' to one or two lamps. Such a timer will turn a lamp 'on' early in the evening, then turn it 'off' several hours later. With lights turning on and off during the evening hours, it will give the appearance someone is home and may avert a possible burglary attempt," Veizer said.

Chief Veizer went on to say that most burglars pick the easiest targets they can find. "They want to get in, get the loot and get away as quickly as possible."

"Therefore, if you put several obstacles in his way, he is less likely to try to break into your home, but will seek 'easy pickins' elsewhere."

By observing these few simple precautionary steps, you can reduce the possibility of a burglar selecting your dwelling as his target next time you're away.

"Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances and safety latches on the windows."

"Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights in the home on and off each evening. Since noise is a deterrent, connect a radio or television set to a timer."

"Protect all doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglary alarm which sounds whenever someone attempts to break in."

"Light up your porch and yard with outdoor lights to increase the likelihood that an attempt burglary would be seen. These lights can also be timer-controlled, if desired."

"Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside."

"Never leave valuables laying around, keep them in a safety deposit box."

"Notify the police department when you will be leaving and how long you expect to be away. 'Cancel all deliveries, such as the milk, laundry and cleaning. Also, be sure to discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address."

"Have a neighbor, or the post office, hold all mail until your return."

"Arrange with a friend to mow the lawn and sweep your sidewalk once a week. Also ask him if he will pick up any circulars or handbills that may be left on your porch."

"Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do, closed blinds keep the sun out, but also make an effective screen for the burglar."

"Never advertise your departure with an item in a newspaper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspapers, after you've returned."

"There is no such thing as a 'burglar proof' home," the chief said, but he added that following the suggestions listed will help protect your home whenever you are away."

Degrees to 2,100, award to Fischer Friday night

Spring commencement exercises will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Friday, June 10, at the Outdoor Performing Arts Facility (Mississippi River Festival site).

A concert by the SIUE Symphony Band at 6:30 p.m. will begin the evening's activities, immediately followed by the commencement ceremonies at 7 p.m. Friday.

Dr. Kenneth A. Shaw, president of the university, will present the commencement address.

More than 2,100 candidates will be awarded degrees. Presentation of degrees will be made by Earl E. Lazerson, acting vice president and provost, and Robert Sussa, associate dean of the SIUE Graduate School. Names of the candidates will be read.

Two area business and civic leaders will receive special recognition during the ceremonies. They are Harold B. Fischer, Granite City, and Jess A. Wilson, Wood River.

Fischer, vice-chairman and former president and chairman of the First Granite City National Bank, and Wilson, publisher of the Wood River Journal, will receive distinguished service awards for their participation in the development of the SIUE campus.

Both men have also been prime movers in the economic, civic and cultural development of this region, the citations say. President Shaw will present the awards.

Other awards to be conferred during commencement activities will include the SIUE Alumni Association's Great Teacher Award and three teaching excellence awards.

Robert A. Williams, assistant professor of elementary education, will be the recipient of this year's Great Teacher Award.

The senior Teaching Excellence Award will go to Ann Carey, professor of speech pathology and audiology. Douglas J. Eder, assistant professor of biological sciences, and Patricia A. Goebel, instructor of speech communication, will receive junior Teaching Excellence Awards.

A reception in honor of the graduates will be held at the site immediately following the program. Parents and friends of the candidates are welcome to attend, a spokesman said.

In the event of inclement weather, the starting time will be the same, but the commencement program activities will be decentralized, with ceremonies at several indoor locations.

Robert Burkner, chairman of the commencement arrangements committee, said that if the program is decentralized, the reception will be held in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center following the ceremonies.

Should a decision be made to hold the commencement indoors, the announcement will be made on area radio stations after 5 p.m. Friday. Information may also be obtained by telephoning 692-2000 or 692-2739.

Water lawn weekly, heavily —not frequently and lightly

By WAYNE B. SEIFERT

Lawn and Garden Advisor

University of Illinois

Extension grass specialists say you can maintain a bluegrass lawn during drought without extra water.

During extended dry periods, it does take extra water to keep your lawn green and attractive.

But the UI specialists say that an unwetted lawn — even one that turns brown and becomes unattractive — usually will bounce back and regain its attractiveness when steady rains occur.

That's because bluegrass can become dormant in dry weather.

If you're in a position to provide extra water for your lawn, the specialists offer this advice:

—Appearance of the grass is your best indication of when the lawn needs water. When the grass takes on a bluish cast and becomes limp, it's time to water.

A well-established lawn needs water only once every week or 10 days during dry periods. Avoid frequent, light watering. Water it just often enough to keep the grass growing.

—When giving your lawn extra water, wet the soil to a depth of 5 or 6 inches. This will take from 1 to 1½ inches of water — easily measured if you set a coffee can in the area being sprinkled.

An inch of water in the bottom of the coffee can means you've put an inch of water on the lawn.

Soil type and slope make a difference. A lawn on sandy soil or on a slope that faces south may need water more often than one on heavy soil in a level location.

Daylilies could be the perfect addition to your garden. After all, what more can you ask than a plant that will grow for years in sun or light shade . . . in almost any soil except very wet ones . . . and with few disease or insect problems?

Daylily breeding programs have civilized the old orange daylily that once covered banks and roadsides.

The flower is now a well-behaved garden member that stays put in one spot. Daylily colors today include almost every hue except blue, green and pure white.

Even some strong, clear reds that hold their color well are now available among the new introductions.

Size varies from demure plants to more than 1½ feet tall to background fixtures that will hold their flowers five to six feet high.

By selecting early and late-blooming varieties, the bloom season can be extended from May almost to September.

When not in flower, the foliage serves as a handsome filler or backdrop for other flowering plants.

New program is said to put college within reach

Many students seeking a college education can escape a high price tag, thanks to a new Veterans' Educational Assistance (VEA) program.

The VEA program, which replaced the old G.I. Bill, is available to all who have enlisted in the Army since Jan. 1, 1977, after they have served at least 180 days.

Under the VEA program, participants make monthly contributions to their educational funds which are matched two-for-one by the Veterans' Administration.

The payments can range from $50 to $75 per month, and are limited to a cumulative total from the soldier — of $2,700.

When the participant leaves the Army, he or she can use $3 per month toward his or her education for each $1 per month contributed.

Soldiers must contribute for at least a year, but can withdraw at any time with full refund in cases of hardship. The contributions are also refunded if a soldier dies or is less-than-honorably discharged.

The VEA program, coupled with educational benefits of ferred by the Army to soldiers on active duty, allows an enlistee to obtain a college, vocational or post-graduate education at minimal cost.

A soldier can normally get two years of college credit during a three-year enlistment. When the program leaves the Army, the soldier who contributed $75 per month for 36 months — a total of $2,700 — will have $100 with which to finance the next three years of education. This is considered sufficient for a master's degree.

Army representatives said at the Granite City Army Recruiting Station, 1206 Niedringhaus Ave., that the program is designed to help the soldier pay for college.

Club proposes superintendent issue meeting

A monthly meeting of the Granite City Democratic Club will be held on Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m., at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Granite City.

The program spotlighting a City Council decision on April 26 to make the office of the Granite City superintendent of streets appointive rather than elective.

"This decision has been the subject of much controversy in the community," Club President Carole Kopis said in letters to eldersmen and former aldermen.

"It has been the purpose of our club to provide as much information regarding political and governmental information to the public as possible."

"For that reason, we believe that this subject is timely, of great interest to many of the citizens of Granite City and should be presented to them in a fair and impartial manner."

"As a member of the council that participated in that decision, we are extending an invitation to you to attend our program so that you may be given an opportunity to express your views on the subject and the reasoning that resulted in your vote. It is our hope that you will be able to attend our meeting on Wednesday night and take an active part in our discussion."

Cell research grant to biochemist Spudich

James A. Spudich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Spudich, 3133 Jill Ave., a University of California-San Francisco biochemist, has been honored with a Guggenheim Fellowship for 1977.

The Guggenheim Fellowship will support Dr. Spudich, associate professor of biochemistry at the UCSF Department of Biochemistry and Biophysics, for six months of research which will be devoted primarily to structural analysis of cellular elements involved in cell movement.

For several years, Dr.

Spudich and his colleagues have been studying the molecular basis of how eukaryotic cells move and change shape. Movement is a fundamental property of living cells. It is expressed in critical cellular activities, such as movement of chromosomes to opposite sides of the cell during mitosis, and cleavage of cells into two daughter cells.

How these cellular events occur, how they are initiated, and how they are controlled are only poorly understood. Guggenheim officials said in announcing the fellowship grant.

$2,919 raised here for research and services

Quad-City residents contributed $2,919 to the MS Hope Chest campaign of the St. Louis Area Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society, David Fox, campaign chairman, reports.

"Thousands of metropolitan area residents helped to make this the most successful campaign in the history of the chapter. This could not have happened without the wholehearted support of local people," he commented.

Fox said 60 per cent of the funds raised during the drive will remain with the chapter to help provide services to MS patients and their families. The remaining 40 per cent is forwarded to the Society's national headquarters for use primarily in research to find the cause and cure for multiple sclerosis.

Dr. Blake W. Moore and Dr. Richard P. Bunge of

Washington University School of Medicine have received a total of $827,256 in cumulative grants from The National Society.

Multiple sclerosis is a chronic disabling disease which affects the central nervous system and usually strikes persons between the ages of 20 and 40, the prime family and career-building years.

"The National Multiple Sclerosis Society is the only national voluntary health agency supporting national and international programs of research into the cause, the prevention and cure of this mysterious crippling of young adults," Fox said.

The existing church board in Madison was revitalized and though discouraged, started to plan for a new parish church.

A church board was established and as a result, on September 14, 1969, a small parish church, entrusted to Cyril and Methody, was erected and consecrated.

Rev. Fr. Theophilus assisted by Rev. Fr. Christo Karabashoff offered the first Divine Liturgy. By the end of the following year 1970, the second "Holy Trinity" Church in Madison was completed on the corner of Grand Avenue and 13th Street.

Rev. Fr. Theophilus was the parish priest for Sts. Cyril and Methody, and Rev. Fr. C. Karabashoff for "Holy Trinity." Later on, Rev. Fr. Theophilus was transferred to Steelton, Pa., to organize the parish church there, and Rev. Fr. C. Karabashoff was ap-

Third dental class ready to graduate

Madison Bulgarian Church marks 70th anniversary

Bishops of the Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church will gather in Madison from around the world Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 1, 2 and 3, for the dedication of the new addition to the church in Madison.

The church is holding a year-old celebration of the 70th anniversary in Madison and the United States.

The church in Madison has the distinction of being the first and the oldest Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox church in America.

The first Bulgarian Orthodox Church board in Madison was organized in 1906 with the intention of building a parish church in which to worship and have its native spiritual center.

For that purpose, a 100 foot lot on Madison avenue between 13th and 14th streets was purchased and in the Spring of 1907, the building of the church was started.

As the roof was ready to be put on, the great financial panic in September 1907 took place, followed by the worst depression in American history, and the completion of the church was abandoned.

More than $10,000 invested was lost. Today, the old church building on Madison Avenue, now used as a warehouse, stands as a monument of the strong faith of those who without homes of their own wanted first to have their own church, a spokesman said.

Near the end of 1907, Hieromonk Theophilus was sent by the Holy Synod of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church, to Granite City and Madison, to strengthen the spirit of immigrants, and to help them organize their own church communities.

The existing church board in Madison was revitalized and though discouraged, started to plan for a new parish church.

A church board was established and as a result, on September 14, 1969, a small parish church, entrusted to Cyril and Methody, was erected and consecrated.

Rev. Fr. Theophilus assisted by Rev. Fr. Christo Karabashoff offered the first Divine Liturgy. By the end of the following year 1970, the second "Holy Trinity" Church in Madison was completed on the corner of Grand Avenue and 13th Street.

Rev. Fr. Theophilus was the parish priest for Sts. Cyril and Methody, and Rev. Fr. C. Karabashoff for "Holy Trinity." Later on, Rev. Fr. Theophilus was transferred to Steelton, Pa., to organize the parish church there, and Rev. Fr. C. Karabashoff was appointed to serve both parishes. On Sept. 1, 1929, the church was completed and consecrated, again with Holy Antimius, Through 1933, the two parishes (Madison and Granite City), and an agreement that only one priest would serve both.

In due time, however, Sts. Cyril and Methody church was sold to the Armenian Congregation in Lincoln Place, thus consolidating both parishes into one, "Holy Trinity" in Madison.

Today, Holy Trinity serves, the entire Greater Metropolitan St. Louis Area.

During 1968-69, the parish church was enlarged with a brick addition. On all windows, there are stained glass icons.

Two painted icons are in the church vestibule (Jesus Christ and the Holy Synod of God).

The icons on the windows of the new addition (St. Clement of Ochrid, St. John of Rila, St. Antanasius, St. Basil, St. Paul of Ochrid, St. Apostle Naum and St. Apostle Thomas) are masterpieces of art.

The old icon of the parish, Holy Trinity, the heavenly protector of the Parish, is affixed ceremonially on the front side of the belfry, to witness how the forefathers had the strength, faith, and courage to build four parish churches, through times of difficulty.

Holy Trinity on Madison Avenue between 13th and 14th sts. (1907); Sts. Cyril and Methody in Granite City (Lincoln Place) (1909); Holy Trinity on 13th and Grand (1910); Holy Trinity on 13th and Grand (1929) - enlarged (1974-75).

The parishes had the following priests in Madison and Granite City: Very Rev. Fr. Archimandrite Theophilus (Dr. Malin); Rev. Fr. Dr. Christo Karabashoff; V. Rev. Fr. Velen Popoff; V. Rev. Fr. Protospreiter Dr. Krusto Tsenoff; Hieromonk Dionisie (Dimitar Doncheff); V. Rev. Fr. Kiril Antonoff; V. Rev. Fr. Peter Stamboljiev.

The equity in your house is like money in your pocket.

Equity is the difference between how much your home is worth, and what you owe on it.

It's a valuable asset you can use to back a really big loan. For whatever you have in mind.

Real-estate values are up, up, up.

So the house you bought just a few years ago probably would sell for a lot more than you paid.

Which means your equity is bigger. And the bigger your equity, the more you can borrow in a large real-estate loan.

Maybe the money you're looking for is already in the house.

River Fest ticket sales

Mississippi River Festival ticket outlets in both Missouri and Illinois have opened for the 1977 season, the Festival's ninth. The concert series is held each summer on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The season, which opens June 22 with Dan Fogelberg and special guest Fogel's Gold, runs until Aug. 20, with the final performance of a three-night stand by Sir Michael Redgrave in "Shakespeare's People."

The season includes contemporary events featuring Box Scaggs (June 29), Bob Hope (July 8), George Benson (July 20), Arlo Guthrie and Pete Seeger (Aug. 3) and Jackson Browne (Aug. 17), among the 18 evenings of contemporary entertainment.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will perform on six evenings, including a special Children's Festival evening (July 10) with "Peter and the Wolf" narrated by Jack Carney.

Other season highlights will include an expanded Chamber Music Series, a film festival running the length of the season, three different dance companies in performance either at the Festival site or in the Communications Building theater on the campus of SIUE, and the theater performances by Redgrave and an evening of "My Mother, My Son," starring Viveca Lindfors (Aug. 11).

The annual arts and crafts fair will be held July 16 and 17 at the Festival site.

Festival Director Lyle Ward is reminding MRF patrons that alcohol and glass containers are prohibited on the Festival site. Ward also notes that coupon books for the season are still available at numerous outlets throughout Southern Illinois. The coupon books offer $25 worth of tickets for $20.

Ticket outlets include the American Heritage Bank of Granite City and Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Ticket orders listing specific seats will be sold here and then exchanged quickly on the night of the event for tickets, at the office near the MRF gate.

St. Peter's to honor pastor

St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard, will honor one of its "sons of the congregation" on Sunday, June 12, when the Rev. Walter Kieffmann preaches at the 10:15 a.m. worship service. Rev. Kieffmann was ordained from St. Peter in 1930 under the Rev. Robert Kiefer.

Last October he retired after 46 years in the ministry. The last 39 years were spent at Trinity United Church of Christ, LaSalle, Ill. He and his wife, Alma, now live in St. Louis. They have one married daughter and three grandchildren. During the worship, the Rev. Dr. Robert Kettelhut, pastor at St. Peter, will serve as liturgist and William Hayes, church president, will present Rev. Kieffmann with a Certificate of Recognition. Following the worship, members of the congregation will join the Kieffmanns for dinner in their honor. Reservations and arrangements for the dinner are being handled by the Special Events Committee, with Norman Schoch, chairman. Special music for the worship will be provided by the Handbell Choir under the direction of Dr. Robert Hutsen. The choir will conclude their season of music with this service and take a summer recess until September.

Visit to Russia described

Gary Pfroender, principal of McKinley School, described his trip to Russia last December as a feature of the regular meeting of Travelers Abroad at Prather Junior High School. Alfred Stoever, president, presided at the meeting and Edmund Firmer introduced the speaker. The trip, sponsored by Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, and by Phi Delta Kappa, professional educational fraternity, was made by 190 educators. The plane flew from Chicago to Copenhagen, thence to Leningrad. Leningrad, Pfroender said, is called the "Voice of the North" because of the presence of the Niva River and the multiplicity of canals connected with it. The vehicular traffic in the streets seems very light for such a large city, he said. Motor vehicles are forbidden to use more than parking limits in the city limits, but can use bright headlights in the country. The many vast, churches with numerous onion-shaped towers, are impressive to the tourists, who soon learn that most of them are now museums, not places of worship, he related. The palace square, which faces the former Winter Palace, now known as the Hermitage Museum, is unbelievably vast in size, Pfroender said. "As tourists tread its wide expanse, they are told by the guide of the infamous 'Bloody Sunday' in 1905, when masses of men, women and children, wholly unarmed, attempted to approach the Winter Palace in the pathetic hope that the 'Little Father', as they called the Czar, would listen to their woes. "Instead the troops stationed at the palace shot and cut down hundreds and wounded thousands in a conflict that lasted all day. "Today, this Hermitage Museum has such vast treasures that it can display only one-eighth of them at one time in the 400 large rooms," he said. In Moscow, the group toured the Kremlin, saw the Czar's Cannon (1584) which was too large to be fired, and the Czar's Bell (1783) which was too large to hang in a belfry and hence was never rung. They also watched the unending lines of visitors waiting to see Lenin's embalmed body just outside the Kremlin on Red Square, Pfroender said. The changing of the guard at this tomb "is a masterpiece of precision, with the soldiers holding their rifles with fixed bayonets in a perfectly vertical position. St. Basil's church is a breath-taking sight, but one shudders when he hears that Czar Ivan the Terrible was impressed with its beauty that he personally blinded the two architects so that they could never duplicate it," he related. The Moscow subway, as shown in Pfroender's photos, "is a vast structure of awesome beauty with its stained glass windows, statues, and beautiful coloration. One wonders whether any church museum, or palace was ever so glamorous. The very thought of graffiti is repelling, the speaker said. "The depth of the subway is one of the many facts which the government classifies as a military secret, but the first escalator descends about 350 feet and the second escalator an equal distance." The tour group visited numerous schools and was impressed by the statement that only the very brightest pupils are permitted to attend the technical schools. They had been told in advance that all Russian pupils would greatly appreciate a little thing as gifts from the American teachers: cancelled American stamps and ballpoint pens and these were bestowed with lavishness, Pfroender said. At Tallin, in Estonia, the temperature was 40 below zero. Fahrenheit and women were shovelling snow in the streets and parks. Although it was in December, the tour group saw little mention of Christmas. Government propaganda features not only Claus, but Father Frost and the Ice Maiden. The big winter festival is not Christmas but New Year's. Russia is to have the Olympic Games in 1980, but the government already is manufacturing and selling souvenirs of every size and description of the coming international contests as well as engaging in an enormous advertisement program, he added. Pfroender showed the club a display of Russian caps, dolls, jewelry and knickknacks. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. James Talley and Miss Lucille Whitehead.

Cradle shower for Mrs. Judd

Mrs. Larry Judd, the former Susan Sherry, was honored at a baby shower last week. The party was given by Mrs. Tina Tooley and Mrs. Jo Maddox at 3900 Galsight Walk. Games were played and prizes were awarded to those attending. Candy pacifiers were presented as favors. Pfroender showed the club a display of Russian caps, dolls, jewelry and knickknacks. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. James Talley and Miss Lucille Whitehead.

Among the guests were Mrs. Dorothy Sherry, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. Chris Judd, her mother-in-law. Also present were Tabatha Tooley, Bobbie Jo and Michael Maddox, Mrs. Marie Moore, Mrs. Mary Hughes, Mrs. Russell and daughter, Karen, Mrs. Peggy Muir and daughter, Bertha, Mrs. Florence Schober, Mrs. Esther DiMarco, Ann Judd and Mrs. Tina Hayden and son, Larry.

Imported liver product warning

By JANETTE MUELLER

Madison County Associate Adviser, Boone Economics Consumers should avoid imported canned liver pate (paste) products bearing establishment numbers "2401C" and "2401D," warns the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). These are dangerous and should not be eaten.

USDA officials said establishment numbers are printed on product labels and also embossed on the cans. The words "Product of France" also are printed on the labels.

The canned products may pose a public health hazard due to potential growth of the bacteria that causes botulism. USDA is contacting product distributors and getting the cans off retail shelves.

If you have already bought such products, return them to the store where purchased. The gourmet-type canned items are marketed under such labels as "Oven-Baked Pate," "Block de Foie Gras Truffe" and "Pate Maison with 1 per cent Truffles." Can sizes vary from 1-1 1/2 ounces to 2 pounds-9 ounces.

They are sold by department stores, delicatessens, gourmet and other specialty food shops, as well as neighborhood supermarkets.

USDA officials note that all involved products are produced by Rougie-Vives of Carlux, France. However, 25 companies distribute the items under various brand names throughout the U.S. The name "Rougie-Vives" may or may not appear on individual cans.

USDA inspectors found swollen cans during routine testing of imported products at ports of entry. Laboratory studies revealed underprocessing.

All products from shipments in which swollen cans were found were refused entry into the U.S.

The current warning is a precautionary measure in case any underprocessed product escaped detection during the port of entry inspection.

It is advised not to eat, or even taste, the products marked with establishment numbers "2401C" or "2401D."

Agree on Pontoon street work plan

The Nameki Township Highway Department will perform all street and road work for Pontoon Village to be paid for with village receipts of motor fuel tax funds under a system to be worked out in a meeting at Edwardsville today, it was decided in a special meeting of the village board Thursday night.

Village Mayor Floyd David Moss, Frank Mehele, Nameki Township Highway Commissioner, and Louis Whitsell, Nameki Superintendent of Streets, along with village officials who may wish to attend, were to meet today at Edwardsville with Madison County Highway Superintendent Lester Miller to discuss the method of MFT payments.

Mehele had proposed to the village that the township handle all of the street work for the village, in return for which the village would turn over to Mehele's highway department all of its motor fuel tax receipts. Most of the village street work involves oiling and chipping, for which the village does not have equipment, Mehele said.

Several trustees learned from Department of Transportation officials, however, that a system of turning over all MFT receipts to the township highway department probably would not be legal.

Trustees agreed during the special meeting to the proposal that the township highway department perform the work but decided that a legal system of paying for the work out of MFT funds should be worked out. On this basis, the meeting today with Miller was arranged.

Mehele said that he is certain a system of using MFT funds for work done on a contract basis will be permissible and that this proposal would be made to Miller in today's discussion.

Kiwanians re-elect Camren

Herbert Camren was elected to his second term as president of the Breakfast Kiwanis Club at the group's Thursday meeting in the Pie Cupboard. Other officers elected were: Lew Bunch, vice-president; Bob LeGrand, treasurer, and Jack Greaves, secretary.

The new officers will begin their terms in October.

Members of the nominating committee were E. Ray Graham, George Teller and Glenn Wright.

The club is making plans for the annual "Hole-in-One" golf tournament Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 20 and 21, at the Arlington Golf Club.

Camren presented a film on Emphysema.

The film informed the Kiwanians that 13 million people in this country have the disease with no known cure.

The most common cause of emphysema is smoking, followed by breathing polluted air and third is having had a lung infection.

If a person is aware of labored breathing or uncomfortable breathing, they should see a physician without delay, the club members were told.

Regionalism can be helpful and harmful

By JOHN BELLCOFF
Board Member
East-West Gateway
Coordinating Council

Solving a problem or attempting to improve public services through regional implementation never seems to work easily. If there is an essential public service involved, like sewers, water, police protection, etc., the degree of difficulty in increasing the size of the service to the point where individual community authority and control will be lost or curtailed through a regional decision-making body is not the best way to solve the problem. A local official, either elected or appointed, is primarily responsible to protect the interests and improve the services of his constituents. As a representative of his constituents, he must be cautious in relinquishing to a larger group his ability and authority to make decisions. If he is responsible for making a regional decision which is later found not to be in the best interests of his constituents, that might be his last decision. He will probably be voted out of office at the next election. This is a reality of the system of elected representation we live under.

Just because regional problem solving is difficult does not mean that the regional approach is not the best way to solve a local problem. A regional approach should be used when the problem is so large or cuts across so many jurisdictions that the local government alone can implement a solution. The regional concept is based upon the belief that a regional body can be more effective and responsive because of "economies of scale" which increase as jurisdictions join together.

Speaking as one voice, a group of governments working together can get greater attention when they are dealing with an area problem or an area opportunity. More unified a group (the louder the group), the more that other people in Springfield, Jefferson City and Washington will listen. The St. Louis region does not have a unified voice often enough. We had a would-be greater positive force in Washington and elsewhere.

There are a number of examples which prove regionalism works. The best and most obvious example is that the original thirteen colonies which federated to form the beginning of what is now a fifty-state successful regional body. That union, however, was not formed for regional or without great difficulty.

The issue of separation of powers and various governmental levels to protect individual rights was a primary concern of this original form of regionalism. It is an essential element in almost all regional efforts. There are examples of successful regionalism in other parts of the country, and there are some Illinois examples that I'm aware of as past president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission which prove regionalism works.

Regionalism of sewage treatment systems in the Alton-Godfrey area, the Collinsville-Marysville area and the Belleville-O'Fallon area are successful. The example of the St. Louis region is a good one. The St. Louis region does not have a unified voice often enough. We had a would-be greater positive force in Washington and elsewhere.

Regionalism, however, for the sake of regionalism—by assuming bigger is better—can create as many problems as it solves. Effective regionalism implementation requires a regional approach. A major flaw in most regional studies has been the tendency to generalize information and generalize solutions because of the great size and the complexity of the area and problems being considered. Because of this large geographic area, one may in a regional approach lose detail and local uniqueness and differences. These unique conditions, local differences and detailed facts are often lost at the metropolitan scale of study. The differences between detailed conditions place in another or more important in implementation—and in designing the institutional arrangements to carry out the activity—than are the similarities that seem to be so obvious. A regional solution is often the best approach for the majority but not always for everybody. Erroneous conclusions (when applied to local conditions) are likely to be developed partially at that the regional scale because of the need to simplify and generalize information at that level. This is the danger of regionalism in our area.

As local officials responsible for their constituents, members of the Gateway Board dare not casually assume that regional is better. As local officials, the problem or issue must be dealt with individually. Because a regional approach is not always beneficial in one area does not mean that it is the best solution in all areas.

Because regional sewage treatment is appropriate in one instance does not mean regional law enforcement or emergency medical service is also appropriate.

For these kinds of reasons, local governments must be actively involved in the evaluation and design of regional proposals. Local governments play the most important role in implementing regional plans which have most of the enabling authority.

Regionalism, therefore, cannot be effective from the top down. It must be developed, designed, and implemented from the local government level if it is going to be effective. Metropolitan-wide, therefore, solutions which seem to have been the best successful are those which the regional area vast metropolitan area, blurring those individual differences which exist from community to community.

The Council, under its original bylaws, is primarily a regional body created to address the issues which are metropolitan-wide in importance. The Council was also created to assist in the solutions of those issues which could only be solved through metropolitan and bi-state action.

In my opinion, the most significant accomplishment of the Council's past activities has been the creation of an active forum for community to community, political and civic leadership of Illinois and Missouri. Metropolitan-wide issues can be many more examples of regional studies, programs and plans which were not carried out by the Administration. If there is a need, it may be for a stronger Hatch Act, not a weaker subcommittee.

Abuse of government employees has been distressingly rampant. The Hatch Act followed revelations of political pressures on the federal service during the administration of Governor Dave O'Neal. It is possible to figure out how much my Social Security benefits will be reduced if I start receiving payments at age 62. A by taking "early retirement" benefits at age 62, a worker will experience about a 20 per cent reduction in monthly Social Security payments. For example, someone whose average annual taxable earnings were $10,000 would receive $1,000 less per month.

I am required as an Illinois resident to assess these differences between activities and concerns in Illinois and Missouri. Some of these differences are due to Illinois law, Illinois organization, Illinois political and social parochial considerations which must be weighed and which should be taken into account in the making of an Illinois interest. In some cases, Illinois is in a better position to develop, implement a foreign trade zone, etc.

polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs). Carlinville is the county seat of Macoupin County, in which the landfill is located. In the telegram to Attorney General Scott, I said, "As you know, Earthline Corporation has 175 permits from the state Environmental Protection Agency. "It is one of some 20 landfills in Illinois which is permitted by the state EPA to accept industrial wastes. "Your action raises the threat that all such disposal sites might be shut down at the whim of the attorney general, despite the fact that the expertise of the state Environmental Protection Agency has found that the sites present no environmental hazards. "Illinois needs environmentally acceptable disposal sites for industrial wastes. Your suit, if successful, may harm rather than help the environment, and threaten the health by forcing disposal in less suitable or possibly illegal sites."

Keep cancerous PCB's away—Scott

To the Editor: A lawsuit has been filed to close the Eastline toxic substance disposal site near Wilsonville. The suit is part of a two-pronged plan to keep cancer-causing PCB's out of Illinois. The second move is an attempt to have emergency legislation enacted by the General Assembly to keep PCB's from around the nation from being dumped in Illinois.

I acted one day following published reports that the Bloomington, Ind., Utility Service Board is considering a change to have 1,000 tons of PCB-contaminated sludge shipped to a "special landfill in Illinois." The report came on the heels of a month of protest by Wilsonville residents over the shipment of tons of PCB-contaminated sludge from Missouri. "It is intolerable that one of the most populated states in the nation should become a dumping-ground for PCB's from surrounding states."

For all we know, PCB's are coming in from states all over the country, as well as from within Illinois. Congress has banned future production and distribution of polychlorinated biphenyls. It's time Illinois bans the dumping of PCB's.

Study of state pension funding policies needed urgently

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — It's probably only a question as to when it is in the world's largest Social Security System or the state pension system in Illinois. President Carter's proposal that Congress authorize the use of $14.1 billion in general federal tax revenues to keep Social Security solvent struck a responsive note beneath the Statehouse Dome. Thousands of state employees with a troubled eye to the future have been hoping that the Illinois legislature would do something about shoring up their pension system.

The dimensions of the Illinois problem are illustrated by the fact that the state system is more than $6 billion in the hole. That's almost about half of the red ink accumulating in the vastly larger national Social Security System. If anything, the Illinois pension system is probably going downhill faster than Social Security. Two years ago the state pension system was in the red ink amounting to about $5 billion.

Most experts in the pension field believe that for any pension system to have a guarantee of providing satisfactory benefits at retirement it must be funded to within about two-thirds of future obligations. There are five separate Illinois pension systems and in the overall they are currently funded at about 40 per cent.

Funding means that a pension system is accumulating enough assets, including interest, that will be sufficient at the time an employee retires to pay his pension. A big problem is that at every session the legislature has a tendency to further increase pension benefits without doing anything about the funding.

There are a number of pension bills in the legislative hopper this time including, one to substantially increase benefits for the legislators themselves. An effort to halt the latest stampede has been launched by the Illinois Public Employees' Pension Commission, specifically through a subcommittee headed by Rep. Joseph B. Ebbesen, R-DeKalb.

He is chief sponsor of a joint resolution, which if adopted by both the House and Senate, would place a moratorium upon pension benefit increases until January of 1979. During that period the Pension Laws Commission would examine current pension funding policies and report its findings and recommendations to the succeeding State General Assembly. At that time, hopefully, a sound pension system could be established. Ebbesen says the moratorium is designed to take the pension system "out of the danger zone." "Nobody knows how to say no when it comes to these pension benefits. What we have to do is quit saying yes to all these proposals which are doing nothing less than compounding the problem," Ebbesen feels that if some stability can be established in the pension system within the next two years, a long-range program can be created that would end any employee's worries about payless pension paydays when he reaches retirement. His program would include reaching an "optimum full funding" of up to 67 per cent of reasonable liability.

He suggests that the legislature "each and every year appropriate the amount of money equivalent to the annual pension payout" and then take the interest on that on the unfunded accrued liabilities. This would make possible amortizing—or paying off—existing accrued pension debt in a 20- to 30-year period. "That would take everybody out of the danger zone."

The big problem is getting the legislature to really do anything about strengthening the pension system. There are some in the legislature and in state government who scoff at the idea that any pension will ever be cut off for anyone. They point to the 1970 State Constitution which states flatly under Section 5, Article 11 of the General Provisions: "Membership in any pension retirement system of the state, and unit of local government, shall be a contract, and no law or ordinance purporting to alter or amend the same shall be valid." "That would take everybody out of the danger zone."

That is all well and good, say those concerned about the reliability of the pension system, but what do you do if the money is not there? President Carter has asked Congress to come up with $14 billion in general revenue to keep the Social Security System afloat.

The state of Illinois has a current budget of approximately $10 billion a year. How could it hope to come up with a comparable massive amount which may well be needed soon to keep checks flowing to an ever increasing tide of state retirees?

then the ballot bag, they must be regarded equally with all other ballots. The same is true for voting machines, since they do not distinguish between who is voting. Advance registration provides time for some checking of the validity, and permits prospective voters' names and identities can be compared. The procedure is far from perfect, particularly if poll judges stray from the proper procedure and there is a lack of bonafide two-party challenge.

But a horde of eligible and ineligible individuals on election day could cause immediate panic, congestion, and delay, leading to election chaos and increasing the likelihood of unauthorized voters finding their way into ballot boxes and onto voting machine tallies.

Assuming six per cent annual inflation, the increase for the average worker (job class No. 10) will amount to 31 per cent in wages alone, with a wide range of fringe benefits on top of that. A massive new economic stimulus will be felt in communities like the Quad-Cities between now and 1980.

The Madison County politicians are needlessly penalizing taxpayers, since sleeping pills replace exercise and recreation. Why hasn't the new jail facility been constructed? The delay is totally indefensible. Funds to build the facility have been available since December 1974. Now, nearly two and a half years later, the $4 million in general obligation bonds continues to languish unused. People worry about national politicians. Let's not sit back and let Madison County politicians. Son of the weak excuses are that Madison County politicians provide enough recreational facilities for prisoners.

Same-day registration risks improper ballots in the bag

Election "reform" activities in Washington this year said to have a real chance of passage. If the revision's that are enacted include election-day registration, the result could be a worsening rather than an improvement of the voting process.

It is believed by backers of the proposal that advance registration inhibits voter turnout, and that the chance to register and vote simultaneously would encourage increased participation. A voting percentage is of course, an appropriate goal.

A problem that is receiving insufficient attention, however, is that fraudulent registrations would have a much greater negative effect on the day of an election, since the ballots cast are not identified in any way. Once inside the ballot box, and

30% rise in wage, benefit costs at major steel plants

Although some are not fully satisfied with the three-year agreement reached nationally between major steel firms and the United Steelworkers of America, newly-available estimates show that the increase in wages and benefits will amount to at least 30.6 per cent over the life of the contract.

To the Editor: Records show that $700 a month is spent on drugs for Madison County prisoners, who average 71 per cent. Some monthly drug bills exceed $600. In St. Clair County, drug bills average about $475 a month with an average prisoner population of nearly 170.

During a 12-month period, Madison County spent $8,530 for drugs and medical care for prisoners. St. Clair County, with more than twice the number of prisoners, spent less than $6,000. Nearly one-third of the drug purchases are made at a Granite City pharmacy, partly owned by Mayor Paul Schuler, a close friend and political ally of Midson County Board Christian Nelson Hagmann. The county does not purchase generic drugs, nor do business with a discount drug store about a block from the jail. Today, one of the worst social abuses is drug addiction. Pushers are grabbing today's youth and turning out hardened addicts.

Weak excuses on drugs for addicts

How interesting that people being held for drug abuse are actually given drugs compulsively of the taxpayers and provided in part by the Granite City mayor. Son of the weak excuses are that Madison County politicians provide enough recreational facilities for prisoners.

Where Lincoln's spirit dominates

By JACK BIESTERFELD

"A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure, permanently, half slave and half free. ... It will become all one thing or all the other." — Abraham Lincoln, June 16, 1858.

SPRINGFIELD — With those words, Lincoln launched a campaign and series of debates with Stephen A. Douglas that would bring him to national attention and lead him to the presidency of the United States.

Lincoln made his "House divided" speech in the Old State Capitol in Springfield, and his spirit dominates the building. He was one of the key men responsible for having the state capital moved from Vandalia to Springfield and for having the building constructed.

He was almost a daily visitor to the building for 20 years, studying in the law library, arguing cases before the Supreme Court or serving as a representative to the General Assembly. When he was nominated for president, he used the governor's office to run his campaign.

The building last saw Lincoln in death on the night of May 3, 1865, when his body lay in state in the House chamber until his funeral the next day.

The Old State Capitol, steeped in history and tradition, is now one of the most popular attractions for visitors to the state's capital. The structure, operated by the Illinois State Historical Library and Society, outwardly appears exactly as it was 125 years ago, but in reality is a new building.

In 1837, after the General Assembly voted to move the capital, bids were let for quarrying, drayage, lumber, hardware, blacksmithing, masonry, carpentry and painting. Nearly four years later, the House of Representatives convened for the first time in the new capitol. Despite many allegations about the cost of the structure, construction proceeded smoothly — and leisurely — for the next 15 years. In 1876 the state built a new state house, the one it now occupies, and moved out of the old building.

The structure served as the Sangamon County Courthouse (the county paid $200,000 for the building) until 1962 when the state bought back the old building for $975,000. The building was dismantled stone by stone with all its exterior stone and pillars numbered and stored. A new structure was then built, exactly duplicating the old one. The masonry was replaced and the capitol furnished with both original and reproductions of furnishings in use in the building in years past.

Visitors enter the Greek Revival structure through tall wooden doors into the lobby where costumed guides lead out small, hand-held radio receivers. In each room, voices from the past can be heard describing the building, the people who worked there many years ago, and events that happened there.

To the left of the lobby on the first floor is the auditor's office, with its desks and files. The state library next door contains what, at the time, was considered a vast collection of books, as well as reading tables, chairs and files. In the secretary of state's office, as in all rooms of the building, can be found inkwells, oil lamps, cast iron stoves and spittoons, just as legislators in the 1850s must have seen them.

Across the hall is the Supreme Court, where lawyer Lincoln argued many a case. Wooden benches are lined up in front of the judges' table, and the pounding of a gavel can almost be heard in the large room.

Next door is the law library where judges and lawyers poured over law books. Lincoln spent many hours in this room studying briefs and, perhaps, looking ahead to his political career.

In the center of the lobby a unique staircase climbs up to the second floor under the rotunda dome. The Senate chambers are the next stop on the self-guided tour of the building.

END BRUSH PICKUPS

The Granite City Street Department will cut off all pickups of brush and limbs after Friday, Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets, announced today. Portell said the elimination of brush and limb pickups will be for the summer months to permit street workers to handle the increased volume of other work.

3 draw in canal

The U.S. Coast Guard, Madison County sheriff, deputies and rescue squads of Alton and Wood River continued today a search for the bodies of a 29-year-old Alton woman, Mrs. Donna Flaugh, and her son, Jeff, 8, who drowned Sunday afternoon near Lewis & Clark Park.

The body of Mrs. Flaugh's daughter, Kim, 10, was recovered about 4 p.m. Sunday after a two-hour search of the area at the confluence of the Hartford Canal and the Mississippi River. Sheriff's deputies reported the two children were wading in the Hartford Canal with their sister, Cindy, 6, and two young cousins when currents apparently swept the Flaugh children into water about 35 feet deep.

Mrs. Flaugh, who was fishing nearby, heard their cries for help and ran to the shoreline where she entered the water. She was reported to be an excellent swimmer, but al-

Released from Cuba

David Short of Tampa, Fla., son of the Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Short of Granite City, is being released from Cuban custody.

David Short was plotting a twin engine aircraft in the Caribbean Sea on Jan. 17 of this year when — due to a severe storm, instrument and radio failure and a shortage of fuel — he was forced to crash the plane into the ocean.

Although he and his employee-companion were injured, they were able to get to what they thought was the coast of Florida by using a life raft.

Only when they were rescued the next morning did they discover that they had crashed in Cuban waters and had reached Cuban soil.

Short has been held in Cuba since January without charges being filed against him and with no direct contact with his family.

On Friday, June 3, the State Department contacted the Short family with the news that he was being released. The exact time of his return is not yet known.

The hearing is being held on Friday, June 10, regarding the application of the Beverly Farm Foundation, Inc., of Godfrey to replace an existing dormitory with a new structure. The hearing will be at 3 p.m. in Haskell Hall 301 of Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey.

Beverly Farm Foundation is a long-term care facility providing specialized inpatient care for children who require it because of medical or developmental disabilities. Total cost of the new dormitory will be $636,000.

The hearing is being sponsored by the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency.

In November 1976, the Illinois Health Facilities Planning Board approved the application of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency to review and proposed plans for new care facilities and services or for major changes in existing ones in St. Clair, Madison, Monroe and Clinton counties.

The main purpose of the law is to ensure that there is a real need for such changes or new facilities. Under the law, consideration is given to the need and services already available in the area.

The Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency was designated by the federal government as the St. Louis metropolitan area's regional health systems agency under the National Health Planning and Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-66).

In addition to the Illinois counties, the agency also serves St. Louis City, St. Louis County, Jefferson County and Franklin County in Missouri.

All interested persons may make written and/or verbal comments in favor of or opposition to the proposed facility. For further information, they may contact Bruce C. Janssen, director of project review, at the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency, 1-314-241-5810.

Rallies by 435 not enough

Glen Carbon's American Legion baseball team lost an exhibition contest at Trenton on Friday, 5-4, after playing Thursday to a 4-4 tie here with Alton when the contest was called due to darkness.

Art Jovi's Post 435 Legionnaires dropped their fourth exhibition contest of the season when Trenton snapped a deadlock with a run in the seventh inning.

Trenton got on the scoreboard first with a run in the opening frame, but Glen Carbon retaliated with a run in the second as Mike Simpson walked and Jeff Hamilton doubled him in.

The hosts went ahead 2-1 in the fourth before a triple by Jeff Fields and a sacrifice fly by Jeff Fallon again knotted the score.

Both sides garnered two runs in the sixth inning. Glen Carbon scoring when Kevin Hayes tripled, David Wood doubled and Rich Awalt drilled a sacrifice fly to centerfield.

Wood was tabbed with the loss after relieving starter Mike Hubbard in the sixth inning.

Jovi said the Alton contest will be rescheduled.

In Memoriam 33

In Loving Memory of VIRGINIA JUANITA GASPARIK June 6, 1975
Time speeds on, two years have passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast

And took from us a shining light
We miss that light and ever will her vacant place there is none to fill
Down here we mourn, but not in vain
For up in heaven we will meet again
Deeply missed by
